Hurricane Esther Heading Toward New England Area

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Hurricane Esther withdrew a threat to the North Carolina-Virginia coast today but rumbled offshore on a course which forecasters said would take it close to southeast New England Thursday morning.

At 11 a.m., Eastern Standard Time, hurricane warnings were hoisted from eastern Long Island, N.Y., to Provincetown, Mass.

Winds will increase to gale force tonight and hurricane winds are likely by Thursday morning in the display area, pushing three to six feet above normal, the Weather Bureau at Washington predicted.

The buttoned-up southern coastal communities relaxed in relief. Hurricane warnings were lowered at 11 a.m. from Cape Hatteras, N.C., to the Virginia Capes. The Norfolk Weather Bureau said the storm was centered at that hour 190 miles east-southeast of the Virginia Capes, moving on a course between north and north-northeast at 14 miles an hour.

"This eliminates any possibility of hurricane force winds on the Virginia and North Carolina coast, though winds may briefly reach gale force during a few rain squalls this afternoon," the bureau said.

Forecasters estimated highest winds to be about 130 m.p.h. near the storm center, with gales extending outward about 350 miles in the eastern semicircle and about 200 miles to the west.

"This track," the Weather Bureau reported, "lessens considerably the danger to coastal sections from central New Jersey southward to the Maryland coast but interests in these sections should continue to check later advisories until this evening. Heavy rain is expected to extend about 250 miles to the north and 150 to the west of the hurricane."

Gale warnings and a hurricane watch continued in effect from north of the Virginia Capes to western Long Island and also for the portion of Massachusetts not covered by hurricane warnings. Gale warnings were ordered from north of Massachusetts to Eastport, Maine.

New York City's Mayor Robert F. Wagner called an emergency meeting of a host of city agencies. Civil defense officials in the city had costs, blankets and food in readiness, and 35 schools were designated as temporary shelters.

Episcopalians Debate Merger

Unification with Trio Of Churches Pondered

DETROIT (AP)—A crucial test neared today on a monumental proposal for uniting four major Christian denominations into a single church "truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."

The House of Bishops at the triennial General Convention of the Episcopal Church set a full day of sessions for action on the matter.

"We're in for considerable debate on it," said Bishop Henry I. Lottitt, of Orlando, Fla., chairman of the House's Committee for Dispatch of Business.

Before the church-governing convocation is a recommendation by its unity commission to approve merger negotiations with the United Presbyterians, Methodists and the United Church of Christ. Altogether, they have nearly 20 million members.

Moves also were afoot to include the Polish National Catholic Church.

Whether the historic plan actually gets under way hinges heavily on action by the Episcopal Church, which clings to ancient catholic concepts not found in the other strictly Protestant bodies.

Anglo-Catholic "high church" forces have mounted a full-scale assault on the plan, saying it would mean "sacrifice of essential principle" concerning the church's sacraments and historic succession.

Many top Episcopal leaders, including the presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, have urged launching of the merger negotiations expressing hope the difficulties could be overcome.

The United Presbyterian Church initiated the proposal officially last spring, at the suggestion of its chief officer, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake.

His plan also called for including any other churches besides the four that were willing to enter the broad-scale reunion effort.

A-Bomb Reds, Senator Urges

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—Sen. Barry Goldwater says the United States should use low-yield nuclear weapons on enemy airfields to preserve Berlin and West Germany if they are invaded.

And he believes President Kennedy should warn the Soviet Union of the plan.

"Let Khrushchev know what to expect, and name the bases that we would attack," the Arizona Republican said Tuesday at a news conference.

He said cities and other military installations need not be bombed, since destruction of airbases would establish U.S. air superiority.

Presidential Auto Disrupts Quiet Business Routine Here

No, President of the United States John F. Kennedy did not pay a secret visit to Circleville early today.

But a hint of the Chief Executive's presence did enliven the W. Main St. business district for about 20 minutes.

A sleek dark blue limousine was parked in front of a local restaurant. Persons on their way to work gave it casual admiration until someone noticed the interior covering of the rear doors bore the official seal of the President — and the day's usual routine was quickly abandoned in favor of the nation's favorite pastime, celebrity-hunting.

While a small group manned the ramps near the car, others scurried off with steps verging on a full gallop to inspect the interior of any business not bolted shut.

ONE CLERK declared her intention to "stand out here all day" to catch a glimpse of the President. Other contented themselves with pressing their noses against the car's windows.

A quick canvas of the area failed to uncover the nation's Chief of State waiting anxiously for 9 a. m. and a chance at a Wednesday morning special from some lucky merchant. There was more nose-against-window pressing and the reassuring cry came that it really was the gold emblem of the President embossed on the car.

A solitary gentleman in modest dress walked down the sidewalk. "Nice car, isn't it," he commented quietly to one of the watchers-and-waiters.

Then he stepped into the auto and drove away.

It was dramatic, but unfortunately for the assemblage, it was not the President. The government official, who declined to be identified, was driving the limousine to Cincinnati on an undisclosed mission.

There was some consolation for the crowd, though. The car was assigned to the President's official fleet — and it was his seal.

Union, General Motors Reach Labor Accord

DETROIT (AP) — General Motors and the United Auto Workers union reached agreement today on a three-year contract covering GM's 350,000 hourly rate employees.

The contract was to be submitted to the union's national General Motors Council for approval later today.

Settlement came after a 27 hour marathon bargaining session on local plant issues. Negotiators had worked over details of the agreement for 64 days.

The giant automotive concern has been idled by local strikes since Sept. 11. However, partial production began Monday following settlements at some individual locations.

Full production of GM's 129 plants is expected by early next week.

At-the-plant working agreements, which supplement the national contract, had stymied national-level bargaining since Sept. 11, when the UAW authorized local unions to work out in support of their local-level demands.

U.N. Snags on Naming Of Secretary-General

Added Money Approved for Care of Youth

Commission Hears Requests by New County Treasurer

The Pickaway County Commissioners, who spent most of their regular meeting Monday reviewing possible new Welfare Department facilities, also approved additional funds for the Child Welfare agency operation.

A total of $4,000 was added to the fund for care of CWB children placed in foster homes. The increased amount was necessitated by a rise in the number of youths placed in foster residences by the Child Welfare Board.

Of the amount, $2,000 was attained by transferring surplus funds within the Child Welfare Board budget. Another $2,000 was added from accounts outside the CWB allotment.

Other transfers of monies were made to cover expenses of the Exception (retarded) Children's Council operation.

A WARRANT for $625 was issued to the Pickaway County Agricultural Society to cover interest due on a note which financed construction of the new grandstand at the county Fairgrounds.

After conferring at length with County Treasurer Robert Wood, the Commission voted to grant an extension of 30 days to the normal period allowed for collection of first half taxes for 1961. Wood pointed out that tax statements would be in the hands of real estate owners about Jan. 1962. The extension would permit more time to make collections and would result in a larger original collection, Wood said.

The Commissioners unanimously approved a bid of $466.88 by Fitzpatrick's Printery for printing of 12,000 sets of real estate tax statements. Other bidders were Walnut Creek Press, $500, and Circle Press, $656.75.

Wood also put before the Commissioners for consideration a request for an additional $450 for part time office employees and $200 for more stationary and supplies for the Treasurer's Department. He also asked for $338 to finance the cost of 7,000 stamped envelopes for tax statement mailing.

The Commission also officially received a copy of a resolution authorizing the substitution of securities in the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland for county funds deposited there through local banks. This is a routine measure designed to facilitate bank operation.

It will be considered fully at meetings during the next few weeks when local bankers and the Commissioners meet to begin negotiations on new contracts for deposit of county money.

Minutes of the previous session were read and approved. The Commission will meet in regular session again Monday.

Looting Plagues Ruanda On Eve of Election

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Troops and special police are manning the entire Uganda-Ruanda border because of fighting, looting, cattle slaughtering and arson in Ruanda, police said Tuesday.

Ruanda is to hold a plebiscite Monday on the fate of the monarchy. The tribal ruler was deposed last January.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle says he told William F. Hopkins, attorney for Cincinnati convicted murderer Edythe Klumpp, that he is not considering a pardon at this time for Hopkins' client.

Following a meeting with Hopkins Tuesday, DiSalle told newsmen he summoned the Cincinnati attorney because of some steps he is contemplating. The governor declined to elaborate.

Mrs. Klumpp, now in Marysville Reformatory, was convicted of the October 1958 slaying of Mrs. Louise Bergen, her lover's estranged wife, and burning her body at Lake Cowan in Clinton County.

Mrs. Klumpp later accused the victim's husband, William, of both the slaying and the burning.

DiSalle said his investigation disclosed that both Mrs. Klumpp and Bergen committed perjury at her trial.

Echo Is Visible Again

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The Echo satellite will be visible in Ohio on these dates and approximate times, above the horizon moving northeast: Sept. 22 at 5:37 a. m. Sept. 23 at 4:54 a. m.; and Sept. 24 at 4:10 a. m.

The satellite was launched here Sunday. It contained human cells and equipment to measure nuclear radiation in the atmosphere.

A spokesman said trackers should know today if its power plant failed. He indicated no new separation attempt could be made. The satellite could orbit for several months.

Final Pay Raise Action Is Delayed

Third readings on ordinances calling for pay raises for the Circleville Police and Fire Departments were postponed last night during a regular session of City Council.

The salary requests, amounting to about 10 per cent for personnel of both departments, hit a snag when a written financial report disclosed the city faces a perplexing money situation. The report was prepared by D. J. Carpenter, chairman of the finance committee.

The financial facts were read by Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick. Carpenter was unable to attend the meeting due to a business trip to Pennsylvania.

In a form letter to each Councilman, Carpenter pointed out that present financial estimates indicate a zero balance in the street construction, maintenance and repair fund and less than $7,000 in the general fund at year's end after the current accumulation of bills are paid. His figures were estimates based on last year's receipts and expenditures.

THE LETTER noted that present figures also indicate a near zero balance for the year ending 1962 with the additional expense of a $9,000 payroll increase for policemen and firemen. It also covered the possibility of a serious deficit balance if other departments are awarded a 10 per cent increase.

Carpenter's letter requested delay of third readings of the ordinances until the end of the year when accurate information can be obtained concerning fund balances. At that time, it was pointed out, Council will know how much it can afford to appropriate to all departments.

Second readings of the pay hike ordinances were conducted in the Council session of Sept. 5. At that time, police and fire spokesmen said they were willing to wait until the first of the year for their salary increases, but desired to know the feeling of Council on the subject.

Accepting the alternative of coming up with a new set of financial figures at a later date, Council carried a motion favoring postponement of third readings. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins informed the body that it would be proper procedure to postpone third readings meeting-by-meeting until the desired time of presentation is reached.

Police and fire representatives were present at the meeting last night, but did not comment before the body concerning the action taken.

City Accepts Turner Plat

Subdivision Includes 50 Lots, 10 Houses

The Merle Turner Subdivision in the south end of the city was approved and accepted last night by City Council.

Turner's plat, bordered by Norfolk Ave., Turner Drive and Williams Drive, was accepted almost three years after the owner's initial request to Council. The acceptance ordinance last night was passed under suspension of rules, with all six Councilmen present voting in favor of the move.

The plat had earlier been approved by the city's Planning and Zoning Commission, under provisions continued improvements be made in the subdivision.

Turner, present for the meeting, said his subdivision includes 54 lots and 10 houses. He said streets within the plat are open to public use. A gravel base exists on Turner and Williams Drives.

THE SOLONS passed the ordinance after making a brief map study of the plat.

Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick raised the question concerning the city's future access to the area for improvement work purposes. Turner replied that the city will be able to gain right of way for needed projects.

Whether it becomes an electronically controlled route depends on how soon and where the federal government decides it will build such an experimental highway, he added.

The governor said Highway Director Everett S. Preston will confer Thursday in Washington on federal plans for highways in Ohio.

"We are going to do everything possible to get Interstate 71 under construction in 1962," he told newsmen. "We are ready with our share for an electronic highway," he added.

Tunisian Gets President Post

Soviet Demands Trio To Head Secretariat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The U.N. General Assembly quickly elected Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim as its president today, but no agreement was in sight on the critical problem of choosing a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The moderate north African received all 96 votes cast after Indonesian Ambassador Ali Sastroamidjojo had withdrawn from the race.

He took over the chair from the outgoing president, Frederick H. Boland of Ireland.

Slim referred immediately to the death of Hammarskjöld which has overshadowed the normally routine organizational procedure at the opening meetings.

"The shining example that Mr. Hammarskjöld has given us should be an inspiration to all of us in this assembly," Slim said.

Slim is expected to play a major role in the efforts now going on to work out a temporary arrangement to keep the office of secretary-general operating.

Western diplomats have been pushing a move to have him chosen as interim secretary-general, but he is reported cool to the idea. Boland also has been urged to take over the post, but he also is said to be reluctant.

Whatever temporary arrangement is made, diplomats believe, probably will have to be done without Soviet support.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko indicated Moscow will settle for nothing less than a three-man secretariat to control the world organization.

Castro Claims Priests, U.S. Plot Revolt

HAVANA (AP)—Prime Minister Fidel Castro today accused "fascist" priests of plotting with the United States to overthrow his revolutionary government.

He said the clergy was working with the U.S. State Department and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency to promote internal disorders and organize an international campaign against Cuba.

Castro cited the antigovernment demonstration that began as a religious procession in front of Havana's Roman Catholic Church of Charity Sept. 10.

Despite the fact that one man was killed, he said the clergy went ahead and organized another hostile demonstration last Sunday in Regla, on the outskirts of Havana.

Warning that if this happens again the government will not issue permits for religious processions, he said: "When we launch the masses into the streets we will crush the government's enemies."

Last Sunday the government deported 136 Cuban and foreign-born priests. The prime minister said those expelled for counterrevolutionary activities will lose their rights as Cuban citizens.

Japan Calls Soviet A-Tests 'Reckless'

TOKYO (AP)—Japan advised the Soviet Union today "the first signs of danger" have already appeared from what it called reckless Soviet atomic blasts in central Asia.

The Foreign Ministry summoned Soviet Minister Sergei P. Suzdalev and handed him a sharp note.

"As a nation which has directly experienced the frightening ravages of nuclear explosions, Japan positively cannot approve of any nuclear development for military purposes which could lead humanity to destruction," the note said.

"Therefore the Japanese government reserves the right to claim indemnity for all damage which may be suffered by the Japanese government and people as a result of the reckless tests being persistently carried out by the Soviet government," the note added.

Music Unions Discrimination Under Study

CINCINNATI (AP) — This is before Roscoe L. Barrow, hearing examiner for the Ohio Civil Rights Commission.

Is a local union discriminating because of race if, although composed entirely of white members, it has offered to merge with a Negro local?

And, is the Negro local which turned down the merger proposal discriminatory — even though five of its 107 members are white?

Tuesday, the commission held a public hearing here on the charges that both Local 1 and Local 814 of the American Federation of Musicians have followed a "consistent practice of segregating their memberships" with the result that employment conditions have been affected.

Attorneys for both Local 1 (white) and Local 814 (Negro) argued the commission had no right to initiate hearing proceedings. They said membership in both locals is officially open to all musicians regardless of race.

Commission Chairman Richard E. Guggenheim said the hearing is part of a plan to force a showdown on Negro and white musicians' locals in six Ohio cities.

Guggenheim said the Negro locals have refused to merge with their white counterparts.

As Alexander Baker, president of Local 814, put it, after asserting Negroes would be outnumbered 11-1 if the unions merged: "We'd lose our voice."

Barrow, dean of the University of Cincinnati Law School, is to report his findings to the commission.

Khrush Replies To Pope John

Atheist Urges JFK To Heed Pontiff

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Khrushchev today welcomed the recent appeal of Pope John XXIII for negotiations to avert war but called on President Kennedy, Chancellor Konrad Adenauer and other Roman Catholics to heed the pontiff's "solemn warning."

Khrushchev's statement was in the form of answers to questions from correspondents of the Communist party paper Pravda and the government paper Izvestia concerning the Pope's special appeal and Mass for peace on Sept. 10.

The pope called "upon the rulers of nations to face squarely the tremendous responsibilities they bear." He asked for sincere negotiations to vindicate truth and justice in order that "force shall not prevail."

The Soviet leader's statement was an unusual if not unprecedented reply to a Pope of the Roman Catholic Church.

"As a Communist and atheist I do not believe in 'the Lord's will'," said Khrushchev. "But one thing I can say with confidence: The great responsibility of the governments to their peoples, to mankind, requires that they should exert every possible effort and start seeking jointly ways to do away with the vestiges of World War II, to eliminate the seeds of tension, to curb the flame bearers of a new world conflagration."

Khrushchev said the Soviet government worked hard to ward off the danger of a new world war by peace treaty.

Soviet leaders, he said, were "for a peaceful settlement of all disputed international problems through talks and we can only welcome a call for talks in the interests of peace no matter whence it comes."

"Are such Catholics as J. Kennedy, K. Adenauer and others heeding the 'solemn warning' of the Pope?" he asked.

"I wish to stress," Khrushchev said "that people of all the world are vitally interested in the safeguarding of a lasting world peace — believers and atheists, representatives of all political and religious outlook."

Settlement came after a 27 hour marathon bargaining session on local plant issues. Negotiators had worked over details of the agreement for 64 days.

The giant automotive concern has been idled by local strikes since Sept. 11. However, partial production began Monday following settlements at some individual locations.

Full production of GM's 129 plants is expected by early next week.

At-the-plant working agreements, which supplement the national contract, had stymied national-level bargaining since Sept. 11, when the UAW authorized local unions to work out in support of their local-level demands.

U.N. Snags on Naming Of Secretary-General

Added Money Approved for Care of Youth

Commission Hears Requests by New County Treasurer

The Pickaway County Commissioners, who spent most of their regular meeting Monday reviewing possible new Welfare Department facilities, also approved additional funds for the Child Welfare agency operation.

A total of $4,000 was added to the fund for care of CWF children placed in foster homes. The increased amount was necessitated by a rise in the number of youths placed in foster residences by the Child Welfare Board.

Of the amount, $2,000 was attained by transferring surplus funds within the Child Welfare Board budget. Another $2,000 was added from accounts outside the CWF allotment.

Other transfers of monies were made to cover expenses of the Exception (retarded) Children's Council operation.

A WARRANT for $625 was issued to the Pickaway County Agricultural Society to cover interest due on a note which financed construction of the new grandstand at the county Fairgrounds.

After conferring at length with County Treasurer Robert Wood, the Commission voted to grant an extension of 30 days to the normal period allowed for collection of first half taxes for 1961. Wood pointed out that tax statements were in the hands of real estate owners about Jan. 1962. The extension would permit more time to make collections and would result in a larger original collection, Wood said.

The Commissioners unanimously approved a bid of $466.88 by Fitzpatrick's Printery for printing of 12,000 sets of real estate tax statements. Other bidders were Walnut Creek Press, $500, and Circle Press, $656.75.

Wood also put before the Commissioners for consideration a request for an additional $450 for part time office employees and $200 for more stationary and supplies for the Treasurer's Department. He also asked for $338 to finance the cost of 7,000 stamped envelopes for tax statement mailing.

The Commission also officially received a copy of a resolution authorizing the substitution of securities in the Federal Reserve Bank of Cleveland for county funds deposited there through local banks. This is a routine measure designed to facilitate bank operation.

It will be considered fully at meetings during the next few weeks when local bankers and the Commissioners meet to begin negotiations on new contracts for deposit of county money.

Minutes of the previous session were read and approved. The Commission will meet in regular session again Monday.

Looting Plagues Ruanda On Eve of Election

KAMPALA, Uganda (AP) — Troops and special police are manning the entire Uganda-Ruanda border because of fighting, looting, cattle slaughtering and arson in Ruanda, police said Tuesday.

Ruanda is to hold a plebiscite Monday on the fate of the monarchy. The tribal ruler was deposed last January.

Final Pay Raise Action Is Delayed

Third readings on ordinances calling for pay raises for the Circleville Police and Fire Departments were postponed last night during a regular session of City Council.

The salary requests, amounting to about 10 per cent for personnel of both departments, hit a snag when a written financial report disclosed the city faces a perplexing money situation. The report was prepared by D. J. Carpenter, chairman of the finance committee.

The financial facts were read by Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick. Carpenter was unable to attend the meeting due to a business trip to Pennsylvania.

In a form letter to each Councilman, Carpenter pointed out that present financial estimates indicate a zero balance in the street construction, maintenance and repair fund and less than $7,000 in the general fund at year's end after the current accumulation of bills are paid. His figures were estimates based on last year's receipts and expenditures.

THE LETTER noted that present figures also indicate a near zero balance for the year ending 1962 with the additional expense of a $9,000 payroll increase for policemen and firemen. It also covered the possibility of a serious deficit balance if other departments are awarded a 10 per cent increase.

Carpenter's letter requested delay of third readings of the ordinances until the end of the year when accurate information can be obtained concerning fund balances. At that time, it was pointed out, Council will know how much it can afford to appropriate to all departments.

Second readings of the pay hike ordinances were conducted in the Council session of Sept. 5. At that time, police and fire spokesmen said they were willing to wait until the first of the year for their salary increases, but desired to know the feeling of Council on the subject.

Accepting the alternative of coming up with a new set of financial figures at a later date, Council carried a motion favoring postponement of third readings. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins informed the body that it would be proper procedure to postpone third readings meeting-by-meeting until the desired time of presentation is reached.

Police and fire representatives were present at the meeting last night, but did not comment before the body concerning the action taken.

City Accepts Turner Plat

Subdivision Includes 50 Lots, 10 Houses

The Merle Turner Subdivision in the south end of the city was approved and accepted last night by City Council.

Turner's plat, bordered by Norfolk Ave., Turner Drive and Williams Drive, was accepted almost three years after the owner's initial request to Council. The acceptance ordinance last night was passed under suspension of rules, with all six Councilmen present voting in favor of the move.

The plat had earlier been approved by the city's Planning and Zoning Commission, under provisions continued improvements be made in the subdivision.

Turner, present for the meeting, said his subdivision includes 54 lots and 10 houses. He said streets within the plat are open to public use. A gravel base exists on Turner and Williams Drives.

THE SOLONS passed the ordinance after making a brief map study of the plat.

Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick raised the question concerning the city's future access to the area for improvement work purposes. Turner replied that the city will be able to gain right of way for needed projects.

Interstate 71 Building Set

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Gov. Michael V. DiSalle asserted today that Interstate 71 between Columbus and Cincinnati will be under construction next year.

Whether it becomes an electronically controlled route depends on how soon and where the federal government decides it will build such an experimental highway, he added.

The governor said Highway Director Everett S. Preston will confer Thursday in Washington on federal plans for highways in Ohio.

"We are going to do everything possible to get Interstate 71 under construction in 1962," he told newsmen. "We are ready with our share for an electronic highway," he added.

Discoverer Capsule Fails To Leave Satellite

VANENBERG AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP) — The Air Force said that Discoverer XXXI's capsule failed to leave the satellite when a separation attempt was made Tuesday.

The satellite was launched here Sunday. It contained human cells and equipment to measure nuclear radiation in the atmosphere.

A spokesman said trackers should know today if its power plant failed. He indicated no new separation attempt could be made. The satellite could orbit for several months.

Tunisian Gets President Post

Soviet Demands Trio To Head Secretariat

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — The U.N. General Assembly quickly elected Tunisian delegate Mongi Slim as its president today, but no agreement was in sight on the critical problem of choosing a successor to Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld.

The moderate north African received all 96 votes cast after Indonesian Ambassador Ali Sastroamidjojo had withdrawn from the race.

He took over the chair from the outgoing president, Frederick H. Boland of Ireland.

Slim referred immediately to the death of Hammarskjöld which has overshadowed the normally routine organizational procedure at the opening meetings.

"The shining example that Mr. Hammarskjöld has given us should be an inspiration to all of us in this assembly," Slim said.

Slim is expected to play a major role in the efforts now going on to work out a temporary arrangement to keep the office of secretary-general operating.

Western diplomats have been pushing a move to have him chosen as interim secretary-general, but he is reported cool to the idea. Boland also has been urged to take over the post, but he also is said to be reluctant.

Whatever temporary arrangement is made, diplomats believe, probably will have to be done without Soviet support.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko indicated Moscow will settle for nothing less than a three-man secretariat to control the world organization.

Castro Claims Priests, U.S. Plot Revolt

HAVANA (AP) — Prime Minister Fidel Castro today accused "fascist" priests of plotting with the United States to overthrow his revolutionary government.

He said the clergy was working with the U.S. State Department and the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency to promote internal disorders and organize an international campaign against Cuba.

Castro cited the antigovernment demonstration that began as a religious procession in front of Havana's Roman Catholic Church of Charity Sept. 10.

Despite the fact that one man was killed, he said the clergy went ahead and organized another hostile demonstration last Sunday in Regla, on the outskirts of Havana.

Warning that if this happens again the government will not issue permits for religious processions, he said: "When we launch the masses into the streets we will crush the government's enemies."

Last Sunday the government deported 136 Cuban and foreign-born priests. The prime minister said those expelled for counterrevolutionary activities will lose their rights as Cuban citizens.

Japan Calls Soviet A-Tests 'Reckless'

TOKYO (AP) — Japan advised the Soviet Union today "the first signs of danger" have already appeared from what it called reckless Soviet atomic blasts in central Asia.

The Foreign Ministry summoned Soviet Minister Sergei P. Suzdalev and handed him a sharp note.

"As a nation which has directly experienced the frightening ravages of nuclear explosions, Japan positively cannot approve of any nuclear development for military purposes which could lead humanity to destruction," the note said.

"Therefore the Japanese government reserves the right to claim indemnity for all damage which may be suffered by the Japanese government and people as a result of the reckless tests being persistently carried out by the Soviet government," the note added.

Episcopalians Debate Merger

Unification with Trio Of Churches Pondered

DETROIT (AP) — A crucial test neared today on a monumental proposal for uniting four major Christian denominations into a single church "truly catholic, truly reformed and truly evangelical."

The House of Bishops at the triennial General Convention of the Episcopal Church set a full day of sessions for action on the matter.

"We're in for considerable debate on it," said Bishop Henry I. Louttit, of Orlando, Fla., chairman of the House's Committee for Dispatch of Business.

Before the church-governing convocation is a recommendation by its unity commission to approve merger negotiations with the United Presbyterians, Methodists and the United Church of Christ. Altogether, they have nearly 20 million members.

Moves also were afoot to include the Polish National Catholic Church.

Whether the historic plan actually gets under way hinges heavily on action by the Episcopal Church, which clings to ancient catholic concepts not found in the other strictly Protestant bodies.

Anglo-Catholic "high church" forces have mounted a full-scale assault on the plan, saying it would mean "sacrifice of essential principle" concerning the church's sacraments and historic succession.

Many top Episcopal leaders, including the presiding bishop, the Rt. Rev. Arthur Lichtenberger, have urged launching of the merger negotiations expressing hope the difficulties could be overcome.

The United Presbyterian Church initiated the proposal officially last spring, at the suggestion of its chief officer, the Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake.

His plan also called for including any other churches besides the four that were willing to enter the broad-scale reunion effort.

A-Bomb Reds, Senator Urges

PASADENA, Calif. (AP) — Sen. Barry Goldwater says the United States should use low-yield nuclear weapons on enemy airfields to preserve Berlin and West Germany if they are invaded.

And he believes President Kennedy should warn the Soviet Union of the plan.

"Let Khrushchev know what to expect, and name the bases that we would attack," the Arizona Republican said Tuesday at a news conference.

He said cities and other military installations need not be bombed, since destruction of airbases would establish U.S. air superiority.

Street Light Move Due for Council Study

An ordinance providing for installation of street lights at 13 locations in Circleville was held to first reading last night by City Council.

The proposal was held to initial reading after Councilman Boyd Horn objected to the move because a light for the Renick Ave. area was not included. Two other negative votes by Councilmen David Crawford and Harold Clifton halted a suspension of rules move.

Crawford said a further study should be made of the Renick Ave. location, along with other rejected sites, to determine illumination needs. He said requests for lights for these areas seem to crop up each year.

Councilmen on the street light committee said they based their action for installation on recommendations made by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., the installing firm.

According to committee chairman Kirkpatrick, the Electric Co. noted that trimming of trees would suffice lighting needs in certain areas. He said an inspection at Renick Ave. disclosed additional lighting was not needed in that location.

Members of the committee debated the three negative votes, saying it appeared they had wasted their time in surveying proposed areas.

Nine of the proposed lights are for the Walnut Creek Pike area, recently annexed by the city. According to the Electric Co., it will take about six weeks for installation once the ordinance is passed.

In other street lighting action, the lawmakers passed an ordinance authorizing the service director to enter into a contract with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to install and maintain two gas lights at the Route 188 entrance to Garden City Subdivision.

The gas lights will be in lieu of usual street lights which the city would be obligated to provide. The Garden City Development Co., Garden City planner and builder, already has set plans to provide gas lights at each home in the subdivision as a move to eliminate the need for further lighting there.

The Council action will authorize the Gas Co. to bill the city for gas consumed by the two entrance lights only.

Council Told Swift Action Needed for Sewer Project

City Council last night was reminded that swift action is needed concerning acquisition of necessary easements for Circleville's proposed Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 project.

Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick noted the urgent need to obtain a negotiator for purposes of checking and obtaining the necessary easements. He said this phase of the project can be delayed no longer.

Descriptions of the easements are now being prepared. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins said the actual easement papers will be drawn up within the next few days.

Robbins joined with Kirkpatrick in emphasizing the need for immediate action.

U.N. General Assembly would name an interim secretary-general to fill the position left vacant by Hammarskjold's death. The West and many neutrals rallied to the support of the proposal.

Soviet opposition heightened fears that the entire question of selecting a new secretary-general would wind up in an East-West deadlock, leaving the U.N. administration without a leader.

This latest crisis was added to the agenda of talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko, who agreed to open conferences Thursday. They originally had planned to discuss the Berlin crisis.

News of the Soviet stand plunged delegates into gloom as the 99-nation assembly got down to business Tuesday.

The assembly met for only four minutes in tribute to Hammarskjold.

Gromyko's remarks brought quick comment from U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who said the United Nations must act at once to choose an interim secretary-general. He accused the Soviets of using blocking tactics.

The United States and other Western powers had hoped Slim would get the post, but the Tunisian delegate reportedly bowed out when he heard of the Soviet opposition.

The Western powers, determined that U.N. authority remain centered in one man, are reported sounding out Ireland's Frederick H. Boland, president of the last assembly, to see if he will accept the temporary post.

The West is firmly opposed to the Soviet plan for a triumvirate with built-in veto power made up of a Communist, a Western and a neutral representative.

City Council Negative on Subdivision

A proposed new subdivision north of the newly annexed Walnut Creek Pike area received negative comment by City Councilmen here last night.

Kenneth Smith, general manager for the Gorsuch Homes firm, approached Council with possibilities for a new development. The local governing body said the plan was not feasible at this time due to sewage difficulties which would be encountered.

Smith made it clear that he was before Council only to seek advice and opinions concerning a possible subdivision. He said his firm is studying an opportunity to purchase about 25 acres of land north of Walnut Creek Pike for consideration as a subdivision.

An immediate question raised by Councilman Harold Clifton was whether or not present sewer facilities would handle a new development. His fellow solons agreed they would not.

ACCORDING to Smith, homes built in the proposed area would be in the $12,000-$18,000 class.

Another weighty problem came before the body by way of a letter from John Dean, 227 Town St., concerning the flooding of his basement earlier this month.

According to the city service department, corn cobs from the Winory Canning Co. clogged a sanitary sewer, causing the Dean basement to flood. A washer and some clothes were damaged as a result.

A long debate resulted in Council fixing the blame with the Winory Co. According to Council, the canning firm earlier had noted it was a city responsibility to maintain sewers.

In view of this problem, Council called for the drawing of an ordinance which will transfer sewer maintenance responsibility back to the Sewage Department. The matter currently is under supervision of the city service department.

Stock Mart Is Steady, Trading Slow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market steadied and displayed a mixed price pattern in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 at 251.00 with industrials up .40, rails unchanged, and utilities up .10.

A sizable gain by Du Pont early in the day helped rally the list which showed more losers than gainers in early trading.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly from fractions to about a point.

Trading was dampened by the Jewish holiday of Yom Kippur and also by continued suspense over the outcome of labor negotiations at General Motors. International uncertainties continued to throw a pall over Wall Street.

Big three motors steadied. Non-ferrous metals, chemicals, airlines and tobaccos were higher on balance. Drugs and aircrafts were mostly lower.

Minor plus signs were displayed by GM, Ford and Chrysler. Studebaker-Packard continued active and fractionally higher. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Westinghouse Electric rebounded more than a point each.

Losses of about a point were shown by Johns-Manville, Texaco and U.S. Steel.

Goodyear lost a point at 43 on a big block of 19,300 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .68 at 701.86.

Prices on the American stock exchange were irregularly lower in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed little price movement. Trading was slow.

Bloomfield Bar Entered

A South Bloomfield tavern was burglarized early today, according to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Burglars escaped with an undetermined amount of cash from Del's Tavern, Deputy Neal Childress said.

Del Shade, owner of the tavern told the deputy about $20 was taken from a cash drawer. The coin box in an electric bowling game machine also was emptied, he added.

The tavern owner said several bottles of beer were taken. Entry was gained by forcing a back door.

An investigation by the Sheriff's Department included a check on a fingerprint sample taken from the bowling machine change box.

In exposed sections of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, residents were hastening the batten-down procedure amid warnings that gale winds and tidal floods would smack their shores today.

Isolated communities on the lower New Jersey coast were battered by waves that lashed across sea walls and flooded roads. Officials worked during the predawn hours surveying roads to determine those that would remain above water longest.

Preparations on Long Island were described by one oldtimer as the most extensive for a storm in his memory. Residents of the 125-mile strip of land east of New York City vividly recalled their brush in 1955 with Hurricane Hazel.

Residents of Fire Island, a sand spit south of Long Island, were urged to evacuate the area, used almost exclusively as a summer resort.

The Coast Guard moved three of its East Coast lightships to safety. The Delaware lightship off Cape May was sent to shelter inside the cape; the Barnegat lightship off Barnegat, N.J., was sent up the Hudson River in New York as was the Scotland lightship outside New York harbor.

The Ambrose lightship, however remained on station outside New York harbor.

In Massachusetts, the Weather Bureau set up a special warning center at Hyannis Airport on Cape Cod, not far from President Kennedy's summer home.

The day's horse racing card at the Atlantic City Race Track was canceled.

In Connecticut, all state troopers due to have the day off were directed to remain on the job instead.

An estimated 1,200 to 1,500 people were evacuated from New York's Fire Island by a flotilla of more than 40 boats of the Coast Guard and its auxiliary.

Street Light Move Due for Council Study

An ordinance providing for installation of street lights at 13 locations in Circleville was held to first reading last night by City Council.

The proposal was held to initial reading after Councilman Boyd Horn objected to the move because a light for the Renick Ave. area was not included. Two other negative votes by Councilmen David Crawford and Harold Clifton halted a suspension of rules move.

Crawford said a further study should be made of the Renick Ave. location, along with other rejected sites, to determine illumination needs. He said requests for lights for these areas seem to crop up each year.

Councilmen on the street light committee said they based their action for installment on recommendations made by the Columbus & Southern Ohio Electric Co., the installing firm.

According to committee chairman Kirkpatrick, the Electric Co. noted that trimming of trees would suffice lighting needs in certain areas. He said an inspection at Renick Ave. disclosed additional lighting was not needed in that location.

Members of the committee debated the three negative votes, saying it appeared they had wasted their time in surveying proposed areas.

Nine of the proposed lights are for the Walnut Creek Pike area, recently annexed by the city. According to the Electric Co., it will take about six weeks for installment once the ordinance is passed.

In other street lighting action, the lawmakers passed an ordinance authorizing the service director to enter into a contract with the Ohio Fuel Gas Co. to install and maintain two gas lights at the Route 188 entrance to Garden City Subdivision.

The gas lights will be in lieu of usual street lights which the city would be obligated to provide. The Knollwood Development Co., Garden City planner and builder, already has set plans to provide gas lights at each home in the subdivision as a move to eliminate the need for further lighting there.

The Council action will authorize the Gas Co. to bill the city for gas consumed by the two entrance lights only.

Council Told Swift Action Needed for Sewer Project

City Council last night was reminded that swift action is needed concerning acquisition of necessary easements for Circleville's proposed Sanitary Sewer District No. 2 project.

Councilman Charles Kirkpatrick noted the urgent need to obtain a negotiator for purposes of checking and obtaining the necessary easements. He said this phase of the project can be delayed no longer.

Descriptions of the easements are now being prepared. Solicitor Kenneth Robbins said the actual easement papers will be drawn up within the next few days.

Robbins joined with Kirkpatrick in emphasizing the need for immediate action.

U.N. General Assembly would name an interim secretary-general to fill the position left vacant by Hammarskjöld's death. The West and many neutrals rallied to the support of the proposal.

Soviet opposition heightened fears that the entire question of selecting a new secretary-general would wind up in an East-West deadlock, leaving the U.N. administration without a leader.

This latest crisis was added to the agenda of talks between Secretary of State Dean Rusk and Gromyko, who agreed to open conferences Thursday. They originally had planned to discuss the Berlin crisis.

News of the Soviet stand plunged delegates into gloom as the 99-nation assembly got down to business Tuesday.

The assembly met for only four minutes in tribute to Hammarskjöld.

Gromyko's remarks brought quick comment from U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson, who said the United Nations must act at once to choose an interim secretary-general. He accused the Soviets of using blocking tactics.

The United States and other Western powers had hoped Slim would get the post, but the Tunisian delegate reportedly bowed out when he heard of the Soviet opposition.

The Western powers, determined that U.N. authority remain centered in one man, are reported sounding out Ireland's Frederick H. Boland, president of the last assembly, to see if he will accept the temporary post.

The West is firmly opposed to the Soviet plan for a triumvirate with built-in veto power made up of a Communist, a Western and a neutral representative.

Anti-Castroite Is Shot
HAVANA (AP)—Anti-Castro leader Nelson Figueroa Blanco died before a firing squad Tuesday. He was the 12th person executed in Cuba since Sept. 9.

The Cathedral of Liverpool, England, not yet completed after 57 years of building, was designed by architect Sir Giles Gilbert Scott when he was only 22 years old.

City Council Negative on Subdivision

A proposed new subdivision north of the newly annexed Walnut Creek Pike area received negative comment by City Councilmen here last night.

Kenneth Smith, general manager for the Gorsuch Homes firm, approached Council with possibilities for a new development. The local governing body said the plan was not feasible at this time due to sewage difficulties which would be encountered.

Smith said it clear that he was before Council only to seek advice and opinions concerning a possible subdivision. He said his firm is studying an opportunity to purchase about 25 acres of land north of Walnut Creek Pike for consideration as a subdivision.

An immediate question raised by Councilman Harold Clifton was whether or not present sewer facilities would handle a new development. His fellow councilmen agreed they would not.

Bloomfield
Bar Entered
A South Bloomfield tavern was burglarized early today, according to the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department.

Burglars escaped with an undetermined amount of cash from Del's Tavern, Deputy Neal Childress said.

Del Shade, owner of the tavern told the deputy about $20 was taken from a cash drawer. The coin box in an electric bowling game machine also was emptied, he added.

The tavern owner said several bottles of beer were taken.

Entry was gained by forcing a back door.

An investigation by the Sheriff's Department included a check on a fingerprint sample taken from the bowling machine change box.

Stock Mart Is Steady, Trading Slow

NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market steadied and displayed a mixed price pattern in slow trading early this afternoon.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks at noon was up .20 at 251.00 with industrials up .40, rails unchanged, and utilities up .10.

A sizable gain by Du Pont early in the day helped rally the list which showed more losers than gainers in early trading.

Gains and losses of key stocks were mostly from fractions to about a point.

Trading was dampened by the Jewish holiday of Yom Kippur and also by continued suspense over the outcome of labor negotiations at General Motors. International uncertainties continued to throw a pall over Wall Street.

Big three motors steadied. Non-ferrous metals, chemicals, airlines and tobaccos were higher on balance. Drugs and aircrafts were mostly lower.

Minor plus signs were displayed by GM, Ford and Chrysler. Studebaker-Packard continued active and fractionally higher. Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer and Westinghouse Electric rebounded more than a point each.

Losses of about a point were shown by Johns-Manville, Texaco and U.S. Steel.

Goodyear lost a point at 43 on a big block of 19,300 shares.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was off .68 at 701.86.

Prices on the American stock exchange were irregularly lower in quiet trading.

Corporate bonds were mixed. U.S. government bonds showed little price movement. Trading was slow.

Hurricane . . .

throughout the threatened area were sent flying to safety at bases far inland—some going as far as Wright-Patterson and Lockbourne Air Force bases in Ohio.

In exposed sections of New York, New Jersey, Connecticut, Delaware, Rhode Island and Massachusetts, residents were hastening the battening-down procedure amid warnings that gale winds and tidal floods would smack their shores today.

Isolated communities on the lower New Jersey coast were battered by waves that lashed across sea walls and flooded roads. Officials worked during the predawn hours surveying roads to determine those that would remain above water longest.

Preparations on Long Island were described by one oldtimer as the most extensive for a storm in his memory. Residents of the 125-mile strip of land east of New York City vividly recalled their brush in 1955 with Hurricane Hazel.

Residents of Fire Island, a sand spit south of Long Island, were urged to evacuate the area, used almost exclusively as a summer resort.

The Coast Guard moved three of its East Coast lightships to safety. The Delaware lightship off Cape May was sent to shelter inside the cape; the Barnegat lightship off Barnegat, N.J., was sent up the Hudson River in New York as was the Scotland lightship outside New York harbor.

The Ambrose lightship, however remained on station outside New York harbor.

In Massachusetts, the Weather Bureau set up a special warning center at Hyannis Airport on Cape Cod, not far from President Kennedy's summer home.

The day's horse racing card at the Atlantic City Race Track was canceled.

In Connecticut, all state troopers due to have the day off were directed to remain on the job instead.

An estimated 1,200 to 1,500 people were evacuated from New York's Fire Island by a flotilla of more than 40 boats of the Coast Guard and its auxiliary.

Budget Outlook

Administration leaders forecast a $90 billion federal budget that will be balanced in fiscal 1963. That would be the book-keeping year beginning next July 1.

This spending total is credible. Many fiscal projections put the 1963 budget higher than that — at $95 billion, with $100 million to be budgeted a year or two after that.

But a balance is uncertain. Forecasting by federal fiscal authorities never hits the realities on the nose. Their predictions are either under the spending total or

Federation Delayed

Plans seemed sure of finalization for a West Indies Federation of British-held islands in the Caribbean. Target date for independence within the British Commonwealth was May 31, 1962. Now Cuba stands in the way.

One essential of federation was to be freedom of movement of peoples among the 10 islands. But heads of the provincial governments are unable to agree on that. They fear communist infiltration. Says over the revenue total, or both.

As for revenues, it is significant that many business leaders are only mildly optimistic about the economic boom so widely expected. They do not see how America's productive capacity is to be brought into full play.

To balance the budget, restraint will be necessary relative to some domestic program proposals which would blot up billions of dollars for revenue. An expanding economy and balanced budgets will result only from sound taxing and fiscal policies.

Sir Grantley Adams, prime minister - designate for the federation:

"There are a lot of people now stopping at Jamaica who are not on their way to Miami. We know that importation of arms from China, Czechoslovakia and the Soviet Union would amaze the world if the facts were known, and the people from those countries now in Cuba are there to stay."

Hotess Jobs Boom in Tokyo

By KENNETH ISHII (For Hal Boyle)

TOKYO (AP)—So, having enjoyed the company of a charming nightclub hostess for an hour or so, you wave for the bill.

It looks all right until you get to an item that says: Hostess charge. "What!", you might exclaim, outraged at being made to hand over the equivalent of $2.77 for the pleasure of 60 minutes of her company.

Sure you danced with her, bought her a couple of drinks. And she probably turned on the charm—the more charming because of the broken English—to inflate your masculine ego.

Besides, it didn't seem like 60 minutes. It seemed like 10.

That's the whole point. If that's the way you felt, she did her job well.

At 1,000 yen an hour, the charge at the top clubs, a good hostess averages 5,000 yen an evening, which with days off comes to 130,000 yen—$361—a month. This in turn is about 10 times more than what she'd earn in a daytime office job.

By U.S. standards, a secretary drawing $3,600 a year could expect $36,000 as a nightclub hostess.

Though the profession is one that invites prejudice, more and more girls, emancipated from pre-war restrictions, are finding hostess jobs in nightclubs and cabarets throughout Japan.

Some do it for the quick money—though the temptation for high living keeps only a few from saving enough to quit and open up that dreamed of bar or coffee shop.

Some become hostesses for fun and adventure—though disillusionment usually sets in quickly.

Moral Strength Only

As one looked at the Belgrade Conference, it was impossible not to wonder who was there.

What did these nations represent in product? What are the standards of living of their people? What military strength do they possess? For instance, take Mali and Indonesia, the presidents of which came to Washington to tell the President of the United States what he should not do. Actually what is the strength of these two countries? What power do they possess?

aligned countries have hypnotized themselves into believing that because they are weak and ineffectual and backward, they possess great moral strength. Is moral strength limited to those who have no other strength?

I am minded of a story of Israel Zangwill's of the king of the beggars. It ran something like this: The king of beggars came to the Rothschild house in London and demanded to see Rothschild. The butler turned him away. So the King of the beggars yelled and shouted and his argument was that Rothschild is the richest man in the world and he is the poorest man in the world, therefore they are equal because each is the ultimate in his sphere.

1,314 British Pacifists Pay Court Fines

LONDON (AP)—Pacifists by the hundreds filed through 11 courtrooms to pay the penalty for breaking the law in their mass protests against nuclear weapons.

A force of 4,000 police early today completed the job of carting off to jail 1,314 persons who attempted to stage a rally in Trafalgar Square and then march on Parliament.

At Dunoon, in Scotland, 315 were arrested in two days of an attempted sit-down on roads to the U. S. missile submarine base in Holy Loch.

Several famous persons went to jail in London police trucks and cars.

Among them was playwright John Osborne, whose "Look Back in Anger" was a stage and screen success. He pleaded guilty to defying a police ban against the Trafalgar assembly and was fined 1 pound ($2.80). He told the court he had nothing to say.

Others who went to jail included playwright Shelagh Delaney, actress Vanessa Redgrave, daughter of Sir Michael Redgrave, a Labor member of Parliament, Fenner Brockway, and Canon John Collins, preceptor of St. Paul's Cathedral and a leader in the antibomb movement.

They followed to jail Earl Bertrand Russell, 89-year-old philosopher-pacifist, who completed a seven-day stretch in jail today for refusing to promise to keep the peace at the Trafalgar rally. His wife, who did a similar stretch, also was freed.

The so-called neutral or non-moral quality have no morality when it concerns Soviet Russia. They are frightened of the bully. They live in fear of Khrushchev's anger.

Apparently one of the brilliant solutions to all our present troubles is to move the United Nations from New York to Berlin. That would make Berlin a neutral city; it would also solve the problems of those African and Asiatic representatives who have troubles with New York hotel and restaurant managers. This great idea emanates, one is told, from the intellect of Hugh Gaitskill, leader of the Labour Party and prospective Prime Minister of Great Britain. Did Gaitskill ever think of the possibility of the United Nations declining to go to the United Nations in Berlin? Does he realize that it would take a simple act of Congress for the United States to refuse to go to Berlin? Let the Africans run the United Nations and pay its bills.

Then, the highly moralistic weak and backward nations will discover that without the protection of the United States, they would sink to semi-colonies of Soviet Russia, little slaves to the Kremlin, instructed from day to day.

Apparently Nehru sees what is ahead and refuses to be led any further by the nose. He stood out at Belgrade, a courageous monumental figure who speaks with out fear and whose words were applauded even by those who dared not vote as Nehru would have them vote. In a word, the applause for Nehru's speech is a thermometer of what is in the souls of the delegates, not what is on their tongues. And so, Belgrade came and went and produced nothing tangible. Two members went to Khrushchev and two to Kennedy and the four accomplished nothing because Khrushchev finds it politically necessary to frighten the world and Kennedy declines to be frightened.

This then is where the world stands today and it is not at all good.

Cost of Living — Whither Bound?

Inflation Wears Disguises, Good and Bad at Same Time

EDITOR'S NOTE—What does inflation do for you? In this, the second of four articles, Sam Dawson, AP business news analyst, discusses the theories of what might cause another jump in the cost of living.

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—All the angry words today about the stage being set for another raid on the value of the dollar may confuse as many persons as it enlightens.

Inflation wears many guises. It may be a pleasant rise in wage scales for labor—in other words, an unpleasant hike in costs for the boss. It may be a pleasant increase in prices and dollar profits for those who have something to sell, be it goods or services—that is, a jolt to those who have to pay more out of their weekly earnings—a cruel blow to those trying to get by on fixed incomes, such as pensions.

Or inflation may be what the orthodox economist sees—a pumping up of the supply of money until it loses part, maybe all, of its purchasing value.

The classic example in this century is Germany after World War I. The government printed more and more paper currency, until finally it took a billion or more of paper marks to get what one metal mark did before the war. Savings disappeared, no one wanted money, only tangible goods. Germany's financial structure collapsed.

After World War II the United States had classic inflation, but in a milder form. There was too much money chasing too few goods—the popular definition.

There was too much money because the supply of paper money and bank credit had been swelled during the war so that the government could buy the military hardware it needed and pay other costs. This swollen supply was in the hands of the banks, of business, of consumers.

There were too few goods because during the war consumer goods production was held down. At the end of the war there was a great backlog of demand for scarce consumer goods of all types; lots of money with which to bid for them; and therefore a big rise in prices because consumers were willing to pay high to get what producers could offer.

By the time of the 1949 recession it took $172 to buy what $100 would have before the war.

The Korean War, and the easy money policy that helped finance it, sent the prices on another, if milder, whirl. By the time of the 1954 recession it took $192 to buy what $100 would before World War I.

Since then the supply of money and credit has been increased now and then in periods of government deficit financing. But the other

Q. If a person is seriously injured while in a strange city, can he be taken to any hospital for treatment?

A. In most states it is doubtful whether an emergency patient has the legal right to demand hospital treatment. However, no one needs emergency care is going to be left at the door while hospital authorities call a lawyer to determine the legal rights of the injured person. Some states have definite laws about such matters. For example, Illinois requires any hospital "where surgical operations are performed" to give emergency medical treatment or first aid to anyone who is seriously injured. In New York, "any public hospital" is under similar legal obligations.

Budget Outlook

Administration leaders forecast a $90 billion federal budget that will be balanced in fiscal 1963. That would be the book-keeping year beginning next July 1.

This spending total is credible. Many fiscal projections put the 1963 budget higher than that — at $95 billion, with $100 million to be budgeted a year or two after that.

But a balance is uncertain. Forecasting by federal fiscal authorities never hits the realities on the nose. Their predictions are either under the spending total or

It looks all right until you get to an item that says: Hostess charge. "What!?", you might exclaim, outraged at being made to land over the equivalent of $2.77 for the pleasure of 60 minutes of her company.

Sure you danced with her, bought her a couple of drinks. And she probably turned on the charm — the more charming because of the broken English — to inflate your masculine ego.

Besides, it didn't seem like 60 minutes. It seemed like 10.

That's the whole point. If that's the way you felt, she did her job well.

Actually what is the strength of these two countries? What power do they possess?

1,314 British Pacifists Pay Court Fines

LONDON (AP)—Pacifists by the hundreds filed through 11 courtrooms to pay the penalty for breaking the law in their mass protests against nuclear weapons.

A force of 4,000 police early today completed the job of carting off to jail 1,314 persons who attempted to stage a rally in Trafalgar Square and then march on Parliament.

At Dunoon, in Scotland, 315 were arrested in two days of an attempted sit-down on roads to the U. S. missile submarine base in Holy Loch.

Several famous persons went to jail in London police trucks and es.

Among them was playwright John Osborne, whose "Look Back in Anger" was a stage and screen success. He pleaded guilty to defying a police ban against the Trafalgar assembly and was fined 1 pound ($2.80). He told the court he had nothing to say.

Others who went to jail included playwright Shelagh Delaney; actress Vanessa Redgrave, daughter of Sir Michael Redgrave; a Labor member of Parliament, Fenner Brockway, and Canon John Collins, preceptor of St. Paul's Cathedral and a leader in the anti-bomb movement.

They followed to jail Earl Bertrand Russell, 89-year-old philosopher-pacifist, who completed a seven-day stretch in jail today for refusing to promise to keep the peace at the Trafalgar rally. His wife, who did a similar stretch, also was freed.

over the revenue total, or both.

As for revenues, it is significant that many business leaders are only mildly optimistic about the economic boom so widely expected. They do not see how America's productive capacity is to be brought into full play.

To balance the budget, restraint will be necessary relative to some domestic program proposals which would blot up billions of dollars for revenue. An expanding economy and balanced budgets will result only from sound taxing and fiscal policies.

By U.S. standards, a secretary drawing $3,600 a year could expect $36,000 as a nightclub hostess.

Though the profession is one that invites prejudice, more and more girls, emancipated from pre-war restrictions, are finding hostess jobs in nightclubs and cabarets throughout Japan.

Some do it for the quick money — though the temptation for high living keeps only a few from saving enough to quit and open up that dreamed of bar or coffee shop.

Some become hostesses for fun and adventure—though disillusionment usually sets in quickly.

aligned countries have hypnotized themselves into believing that because they are weak and ineffectual and backward, they possess great moral strength. Is moral strength limited to those who have no other strength?

I am minded of a story of Israel Zangwill's of the king of the beggars. It ran something like this: The king of beggars came to the Rothschild house in London and demanded to see Rothschild. The butler turned him away. So the King of the beggars yelled and shouted and his argument was that Rothschild is the richest man in the world and he is the poorest man in the world, therefore they are equal because each is the ultimate in his sphere.

The neutral nations seem to take that attitude: they have nothing and they amount to nothing; therefore they are morally supreme. But at Belgrade only Nehru had the courage to take a noble moral attitude. Both Tito and Sukarno displayed unbelievable cowardice and he Conference itself dared not pass a resolution condemning Khrushchev for entering upon a new era of bomb frightening.

He is not testing bombs for scientific purposes. He is using the bomb as a child uses fire-crackers, to scare the weak and helpless. He is like the fellow who throws a firecracker into a tin can to make a lot of noise. Whatever should have been said, the Belgrade Conference did not say. It watched the clown play with his fire-crackers and those present showed that they were not afraid. Of who were they not afraid? They are not afraid of the United States.

But the United States is not scaring them. In fact, the United States has not fired a single bomb during the period that Khrushchev is exploding them every time there is a meeting. So why should the Belgrade Conference equate the United States as being as evil as Soviet Russia?

The reason: these men of high

Hog Farmers Cautious on Output Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's hog farmers apparently are continuing a cautious course in pig production plans for the fall and winter seasons.

An Agriculture Department survey of 10 midwestern states indicates a 2 per cent larger pig crop this fall than a year earlier. These states produce about 75 per cent of the nation's hogs.

This production picture is the same as one forecast by the department last June.

Fall crop pigs produce the pork supply in the following spring and summer. Markets could absorb the indicated increase with no great impact on market prices, officials said.

The survey showed production plans in these states for the December-February winter season indicate a 4 per cent increase over a year earlier. Pigs farrowed in this period would go to slaughter market late next summer and in the fall.

Kennedy administration farm officials are hopeful that hog production will be kept close to current levels. A large crop in the late winter and spring next year would be reflected in heavy marketings next fall and winter and probably would bring a sharp downturn in prices. This would take place around election time, when the Democrats hope to gain congressional seats in midwestern farming areas.

There still is time for the production outlook to change. A bountiful supply of corn and other feed grains at relatively low prices could lead to a larger increase in the winter and spring crops. Such a feed grain supply appears in the making. Government policies will play a big part in determining the grain prices.

States showing prospective increases in the fall crop were Illinois 6 per cent, Minnesota 1, Iowa 2, Missouri 3, South Dakota 10, Nebraska 6 and Kansas 11. States showing indicated decreases were Ohio 3 per cent, Indiana 1, and Wisconsin 5.

Fallout Shelter Inquiries Zoom

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Who's building the fallout shelters?" John J. Pokorny, director of civil defense in Cleveland and CD coordinator in Cuyahoga County, wants to know.

CD officials said Monday its headquarters had received more than 2,000 inquiries about the shelters in the last 30 days. As the Berlin crisis got worse, the calls increased.

"If people are building them, they aren't telling anybody," said Pokorny. He said some of the questions CD is getting are pretty "step".

"They want to know what if this happens, what if that happens," Pokorny added. He said he thought people were afraid to say if they have a shelter. "They feel that if they say they have a shelter, or are building a shelter, they'll be considered crackpots," he explained.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guerrilla wars used to be fought by tough-tongued jungle diplomats in the province of well-dressed and solemn gentlemen who discoursed on a high level and issued opaque communiqués.

Then the Russians, as usual, had to come along and spoil things. Now Premier Khrushchev is using guerrilla tactics for diplomacy and diplomacy for guerrilla tactics.

It's simple, too. Guerrillas hit and run, do some damage, bewilder the opposition which does not know what to expect next, disappear for a while, and strike again somewhere else.

At times this seemed too simple for Western statesmen, who for years have acted like villagers huddled in a rain forest, wondering what next but too used to their old ways to try new ways of their own to strike back.

Khrushchev would belt them with an unadorned blackjack and then, just to confuse them, belt them with a blackjack dressed in Christmas wrappings. One minute he'd be the bad guy talking war, the next the good guy yearning for peace.

Stalin used guerrilla tactics, too. Khrushchev has gone beyond him and added a public relations touch that makes Madison Avenue look as old-fashioned as a pitchman at a circus.

For instance: in the midst of all his rumpus about Berlin—perhaps because of it—in the past few months he has given three distinguished and widely read American newspapermen lengthy, separate interviews.

They reported what he said in great detail, and much length. So he reached millions of Americans repeatedly with his views on a host of issues.

It seems that almost daily—this is an exaggeration, but not much—he has something to say on war, peace, disarmament, or nuclear testing.

All of this not only gets duly

Berlin Reds Utilize New Loudspeakers

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists have brought a new weapon into their way of nerves against West Berlin.

All along the concrete and barbed wire barriers of the divided city, they have opened up with a barrage of loudspeakers turned at full strength toward West Berlin.

They blare out propaganda, threats, scorn and flattery—interspersed with American jazz and German waltzes.

Some of the loudspeakers are mounted on trucks. Others are hung in trees overlooking the border or fixed to the boundary fence.

The loudspeakers are guarded by People's Police and Communist army patrols with submachine guns and hand grenades.

The Communists call this free entertainment for West Berliners "Radio August 13."

Aug. 13 was the day the East Germans sealed off West Berlin to stop the flood of refugees fleeing from Walter Ulbricht's Communist rule.

The programs usually open at 5 a.m., startling thousands of West Berliners out of their sleep. At most points, the noise continues throughout the day.

"This is the real voice of the German people," the announcer says.

"We are Germans like you, and soon we will be reunited. But we are soldiers too, and if we are attacked we will not hesitate to shoot, even at Germans."

ported over the air and in the press of American but in Western Europe and around the world. In short, he has made top news with whatever tactic he wanted to use for months.

By contrast the Western leaders have seemed hush-mouthed. President Kennedy, for instance, could but didn't make broad use of TV to talk to the people. He falls far short of making maximum use of other news media either to answer Khrushchev or turn the tables on him by putting him on the defensive.

What Khrushchev has been doing apparently finally sank in on the Kennedy administration. Last week the White House revealed Kennedy has set up a group of advisers on psychological and political warfare. It has met eight times.

The most recent example of how Khrushchev day by day tries to keep the West guessing and off balance came Tuesday at the United Nations when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked to reporters.

Russia has long insisted that U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld—killed this week in a plane crash—should be replaced by three secretaries-general, one of whom would represent the Communist world and could veto anything the other two wanted to do in any emergency anywhere around the world.

This would in effect paralyze

the United Nations. Gromyko repeated the Russian demand for three secretaries. But now he managed to couple this with another old Soviet demand that Red China be added to the United Nations.

If Russia sticks to this, it will turn this U. N. session into chaos. Gromyko got in his lick before the world organization even had a chance to consider a successor to Hammarskjöld.

Hero of Bataan Indicted in Theft

GOLDEN, Colo. (AP) — Sheriff Arthur Wermuth, who won fame as the "one-man army of Bataan" during World War II, has been indicted on charges of embezzlement, conversion of public funds and false pretenses.

Wermuth, 46, a Republican, said, "there are definite political overtones to this entire (Jefferson County) grand jury investigation." He said he wasn't allowed to testify.

Wermuth is charged with illegally obtaining $3,673 in county funds over a two-year period. He posted a $4,000 bond.

Wermuth was credited with killing 100 Japanese soldiers early in World War II. He was captured and spent three years in a Japanese prison.

JAIL YALE 'RIDERS'—The Rev. Gaylord Noyce and Rev. John David Maguire, divinity professors at Yale and Wesleyan Universities, are shown in Montgomery, Ala., after they were sentenced to 15 days in jail and fined $100 for taking part in a lunch counter integration movement. Chaplain William S. Coffin of Yale was also convicted. They were all members of Freedom Riders.

Ohio Youth Gets To Visit Red Embassy

WASHINGTON (AP)—It's easy to get into the Russian embassy here—if you know a congressman.

As a matter of fact, according to Rep. Charles A. Mosher, R-Ohio, it's easier than getting into the French embassy.

Mosher tells this story:

A recent visitor to his office, Laron Jensen, a high school student from the Erie County community of Castalia, Ohio, told Mosher he was aiming for a career in foreign service and expressed interest in visiting the French and Russian embassies.

The Oberlin congressman said he didn't think there was much of a chance of touring the Russian embassy but put in the requests anyway.

Newfoundland has drained peatlands, ripped them open with swamp plows and settled farmers on the reclaimed land.

The French turned down the request with apologies, saying their embassy was short-staffed because of vacations.

But the Soviets, to Mosher's surprise, said they would be glad to have the Ohio youth and his family visit their embassy.

Jensen, in a letter to Mosher, recalled the visit earlier this month. "We walked into the Russian embassy—that is, after they had unbolted the door," he said.

An English-speaking guide showed Jensen, his parents and his sister around and "gave us several magazines showing the bright side of their culture."

"Never once did the guide mention anything about communism or their space feats, or, for that matter, no one hinted anything about world events at all," the youth wrote.

When a car is this beautiful, you know Pontiac built it!

Who else but the builder of those front-running Wide-Track Pontiacs could bring out a car so freshly and finely styled! It's longer, with a crisp, low silhouette. It's distinctly Pontiac, with a new twin-scoop grille you can recognize a block away. Powered by the potent Trophy V-8, with from 215 to 348 h.p. Beautifully poised on Pontiac's famous Wide-Track stance. And a turning radius cut as much as 3½ feet to make handling easier. The result is a pride-pleasing new version of America's Number One Road Car. Let a 1962 Pontiac show you.

Hog Farmers Cautious on Output Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — The nation's hog farmers apparently are continuing a cautious course in pig production plans for the fall and winter seasons.

An Agriculture Department survey of 10 midwestern states indicates a 2 per cent larger pig crop this fall than a year earlier. These states produce about 75 per cent of the nation's hogs.

This production picture is the same as one forecast by the department last June.

Fall crop pigs produce the pork supply in the following spring and summer. Markets could absorb the indicated increase with no great impact on market prices, officials said.

The survey showed production plans in these states for the December-February winter season indicate a 4 per cent increase over a year earlier. Pigs farrowed in this period would go to slaughter market late next summer and in the fall.

Kennedy administration farm officials are hopeful that hog production will be kept close to current levels. A large crop in the late winter and spring next year would be reflected in heavy marketings next fall and winter and probably would bring a sharp downturn in prices. This would take place around election time, when the Democrats hope to gain congressional seats in midwestern farming areas.

There still is time for the production outlook to change. A bountiful supply of corn and other feed grains at relatively low prices could lead to a larger increase in the winter and spring crops. Such a feed grain supply appears in the making. Government policies will play a big part in determining the grain prices.

States showing prospective increases in the fall crop were Illinois 6 per cent, Minnesota 1, Iowa 2, Missouri 3, South Dakota 10, Nebraska 6 and Kansas 11. States showing indicated decreases were Ohio 3 per cent, Indiana 1, and Wisconsin 5.

Fallout Shelter Inquiries Zoom

CLEVELAND (AP) — "Who's building the fallout shelters?" John J. Pokorny, director of civil defense in Cleveland and CD coordinator in Cuyahoga County, wants to know.

CD officials said Monday its headquarters had received more than 2,000 inquiries about the shelters in the last 30 days. As the Berlin crisis got worse, the calls increased.

"If people are building them, they aren't telling anybody," said Pokorny. He said some of the questions CD is getting are pretty "step".

"They want to know what if this happens, what if that happens," Pokorny added. He said he thought people were afraid to say if they have a shelter. "They feel that if they say they have a shelter, or are building a shelter, they'll be considered crackpots," he explained.

The World Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Guerrilla wars used to be fought by tough in jungles while diplomacy was the province of well-dressed and solemn gentlemen who discoursed on a high level and issued opaque communiques.

Then the Russians, as usual, had to come along and spoil things. Now Premier Khrushchev is using guerrilla tactics for diplomacy and diplomacy for guerrilla tactics.

It's simple, too. Guerrillas hit and run, do some damage, bewilder the opposition which does not know what to expect next, disappear for a while, and strike again somewhere else.

At times this seemed too simple for Western statesmen, who for years have acted like villagers huddled in a rain forest, wondering what next but too used to their old ways to try new ways of their own to strike back.

Khrushchev would belt them with an unadorned blackjack and then, just to confuse them, belt them with a blackjack dressed in Christmas wrappings. One minute he'd be the bad guy talking war, the next the good guy yearning for peace.

Stalin used guerrilla tactics, too. Khrushchev has gone beyond him and added a public relations touch that makes Madison Avenue look as old-fashioned as a pitchman at a circus.

For instance: in the midst of all his rumpus about Berlin—perhaps because of it—in the past few months he has given three distinguished and widely read American newspapermen lengthy, separate interviews.

They reported what he said in great detail, and much length. So he reached millions of Americans repeatedly with his views on a host of issues.

It seems that almost daily—this is an exaggeration, but not much—he has something to say on war, peace, disarmament, or nuclear testing.

All of this not only gets duly

Berlin Reds Utilize New Loudspeakers

BERLIN (AP) — The Communists have brought a new weapon into their way of nerves against West Berlin.

All along the concrete and barbed wire barriers of the divided city, they have opened up with a barrage of loudspeakers turned at full strength toward West Berlin.

They blare out propaganda, threats, scorn and flattery—interspersed with American jazz and German waltzes.

Some of the loudspeakers are mounted on trucks. Others are hung in trees overlooking the border or fixed to the boundary fence.

The loudspeakers are guarded by People's Police and Communist army patrols with submachine guns and hand grenades.

The Communists call this free entertainment for West Berliners "Radio August 13."

Aug. 13 was the day the East Germans sealed off West Berlin to stop the flood of refugees fleeing from Walter Ulbricht's Communist rule.

The programs usually open at 5 a.m., startling thousands of West Berliners out of their sleep. At most points, the noise continues throughout the day.

"This is the real voice of the German people," the announcer says.

"We are Germans like you, and soon we will be reunited. But we are soldiers too, and if we are attacked we will not hesitate to shoot, even at Germans."

reported over the air and in the press of American but in Western Europe and around the world. In short, he has made top news with whatever tactic he wanted to use for months.

By contrast the Western leaders have seemed hush-mouthed. President Kennedy, for instance, could not make broad use of TV to talk to the people. He falls far short of making maximum use of other news media either to answer Khrushchev or turn the tables on him by putting him on the defensive.

What Khrushchev has been doing apparently finally sank in on the Kennedy administration. Last week the White House revealed Kennedy has set up a group of advisers on psychological and political warfare. It has met eight times.

The most recent example of how Khrushchev day by day tries to keep the West guessing and off balance came Tuesday at the United Nations when Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko talked to reporters.

Russia has long insisted that U. N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjöld—killed this week in a plane crash—should be replaced by three secretaries-general, one of whom would represent the Communist world and could veto anything the other two wanted to do in any emergency anywhere around the world.

This would in effect paralyze

the United Nations. Gromyko repeated the Russian demand for three secretaries. But now he managed to couple this with another old Soviet demand that Red China be admitted to the United Nations.

If Russia sticks to this, it will turn this U. N. session into chaos. Gromyko got in his lick before the world organization even had a chance to consider a successor to Hammarskjöld.

Lemon, Neal Nuptials Read In EUB Church at Ashville

MRS. BILL RAY NEAL

Miss Susan Arlene Lemon and Mr. Bill Ray Neal were united in marriage August 25 in the Ashville Evangelical United Brethren Church. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. John Morgan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Lemon, Ashville. Mr. Neal is the son of Mrs. Mary Neal, Ashville, and the late Lester Neal.

The new Mrs. Neal was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated in palms and candlelight. Mrs. Ronald Jewell served as organist and Mrs. Stephen Cook presented appropriate wedding selections.

Mrs. Neal chose for the occasion an exquisite floor length gown fashioned of silk organza, over taffeta. The gown featured a portrait neckline, outlined with all lace, iridescence, seed pearls and bracelet length sleeves. The princess silhouette, panel front, ended in a voluminous skirt. The fingertip veil was of French illusion held to a cross of seed pearls and iridescence to match the lace of her gown.

Miss Carolyn Newton served as maid of honor. She wore a dress of green taffeta with a chiffon overskirt and white gloves.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Young and Miss Rosalee Wheeler. Mrs. Young's blue taffeta sheath was with a chiffon overskirt and white gloves. Miss Wheeler wore a pink taffeta sheath with a pink chiffon overskirt.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Linda and Miss Donna Lemon. They wore green and blue taffeta sheaths with matching chiffon overskirts.

Flower girl was Kathy Wheeler who wore a pink taffeta dress and white gloves and carried a basket of white pom poms.

Boyd Ruh served as best man. Ushers were Jack Lemon Jr., Gary Harrison, Bob Neal and Dick Wyrick.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lemon wore a cinderella blue dress with white accessories and sprayed carnations. Mrs. Neal's light blue dress included black accessories and sprayed carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement. Hostesses were Nancy Acord, Karen Leek, Arlene Fortner and Alice Baum.

For the wedding trip to southern Ohio, Mrs. Neal wore a beige dress with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal are residing at Cook Road, South Bloomfield.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Ashville High School and River-side - White Cross School of Nursing, class of 1961. She is a member of Delta Sigma Omicron Honor Society and is employed at Berger Hospital.

The bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of Ashville High School. He is employed at the Western Electric Co. in Columbus.

Guests were from Ashville, Amanda, Columbus, Cincinnati, Wakefield and Canal Winchester.

48 Attend Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Meet at Robtown

Approximately 48 guests and members attended the meeting of Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Society at Robtown.

Mrs. Lawrence Ward led devotionals, opening with group singing of the hymn "Jesus Is Always There". She also read scripture from St. Luke and a prayer.

Birthday donations were received from Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Raymond Hott, Mrs. Robert Drummond and Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Elzie Brooks president, announced her resignation, effective immediately. She expressed her inability to continue, inasmuch as she is teaching at the Exceptional Children's School in Circleville. Mrs. Brooks has been president of the Ladies Aid for 10 years.

The hostesses, Mrs. Harold Fee, Mrs. Henry Hanson, Mrs. L. J. Welsh and Mrs. Ward, planned a "surprise" program.

Mrs. Brooks was crowned "Queen For A Day". She was presented a dozen red roses and a gift from the committee. The society presented her with a check for the Exceptional Children's School. Mrs. Brooks extended an invitation to those present to visit the school. She also read cards on which members had written personal messages.

Mrs. Fee was in charge of the program. A quartette, Misses Jeanne Walker, Mary Ellen Downs, Gretchen Hott and Mrs. Judy Welsh, sang "Little Old Lady", with Miss Sally Hines at the piano.

A vocal solo "The End Of A Perfect Day" was given by Mrs. Ellis Cline. Mrs. Henry Hanson gave a reading "How You Act And Live". Patty and Jay Welsh sang a duet "How Great Thou Art" with her sister Joy, at the piano.

A piano selection was given by Sharon Ward.

Two poems, "Who Is Fannie Brooks?" and "That Church On Three - Sixteen" were given by Mrs. Howard Koch.

The program closed with a number by the quartette "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

Prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Timmons, Mrs. Brooks and Jackie Ogle.

The hostesses served refreshments at tables attractively centered with Autumn flowers.

The October committee will be Mrs. Hazel Mowery, Mrs. Ben Walker, Mrs. Escome Ward and Mrs. Dan Grant. Devotionals will be given by Mrs. Howard Koch.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Why the Rush?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 25. She is not an outstanding beauty, but she is attractive and intelligent. She has turned down a few good proposals of marriage. When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says, "Don't rush me."

Is there any way I can speed up marriage for her? I am 48 and would like to see some grandchildren before I die.

WANTS GRANDCHILDREN DEAR WANTS: Many grandparents, who have pushed their children into marriage, see more of their grandchildren than they bargained for. (They are raising them). If you are impatient to see things hatch, settle down on a chicken farm. But don't pressure your daughter to fly the coop.

DEAR ABBY: I love to eat and I look it. I guess you could say that I am just plain FAT will jumping rope help me to lose weight?

FAT DEAR FAT: Yes, if you SKIP desserts!

DEAR ABBY: I found a "strange" bath towel in my laundry.

dry. I do not send my washing out, so I was completely baffled as to how it came to be in my house. One night last week my husband and I went out, and we left our child with a sitter. The sitter is a rather quiet high school girl who came well recommended. She asked if I objected if she had her boy friend over while she sat. I agreed as I trusted her.

My husband developed a bad toothache, so we came home earlier than we intended. It seemed her boy friend was just leaving, when we came home. When he saw us he turned scarlet, and left hurriedly. When I went into the bathroom it was all steamy, and I found a bath towel just like the one that was left here before. Need I draw any pictures? Please warn other women not to be as stupidly big-hearted as I. If a sitter wants to entertain her boy friend, let her entertain him in her own home.

DISGUSTED CONFIDENTIAL TO KAREN: "Cheap" talk is expensive.

Lemon, Neal Nuptials Read In EUB Church at Ashville

MRS. BILL RAY NEAL

Miss Susan Arlene Lemon and Mr. Bill Ray Neal were united in marriage August 25 in the Ashville Evangelical United Brethren Church. The double ring ceremony was read by the Rev. John Morgan.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack E. Lemon, Ashville. Mr. Neal is the son of Mrs. Mary Neal, Ashville, and the late Lester Neal.

The new Mrs. Neal was given in marriage by her father before an altar decorated in palms and candlelight. Mrs. Ronald Jewell served as organist and Mrs. Stephen Cook presented appropriate wedding selections.

Mrs. Neal chose for the occasion an exquisite floor length gown fashioned of silk organza, over taffeta. The gown featured a portrait neckline, outlined with all lace, iridescence, seed pearls and bracelet length sleeves. The princess silhouette, panel front, ended in a voluminous skirt. The fingertip veil was of French illusion held to a cross of seed pearls and iridescence to match the lace of her gown.

Miss Carolyn Newton served as maid of honor. She wore a dress of green taffeta with a chiffon overskirt and white gloves.

Bridesmaids were Mrs. Jack Young and Miss Rosalee Wheeler. Mrs. Young's blue taffeta sheath was with a chiffon overskirt and white gloves. Miss Wheeler wore a pink taffeta sheath with a pink chiffon overskirt.

Junior bridesmaids were Miss Linda and Miss Donna Lemon. They wore green and blue taffeta sheaths with matching chiffon overskirts.

Flower girl was Kathy Wheeler who wore a pink taffeta dress and white gloves and carried a basket of white pom poms.

Boyd Ruh served as best man. Ushers were Jack Lemon Jr., Gary Harrison, Bob Neal and Dick Wyrick.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Lemon wore a cinderella blue dress with white accessories and sprayed carnations. Mrs. Neal's light blue dress included black accessories and sprayed carnations.

A reception was held in the church basement. Hostesses were Nancy Acord, Karen Leek, Arlene Fortner and Alice Baum.

For the wedding trip to southern Ohio, Mrs. Neal wore a beige dress with matching accessories.

Mr. and Mrs. Neal are residing at Cook Road, South Bloomfield.

The bride is a 1958 graduate of Ashville High School and River-side - White Cross School of Nursing, class of 1961. She is a member of Delta Sigma Omicron Honor Society and is employed at Berger Hospital.

The bridegroom is a 1958 graduate of Ashville High School. He is employed at the Western Electric Co. in Columbus.

Guests were from Ashville, Amanda, Columbus, Cincinnati, Wakefield and Canal Winchester.

Party Honors Mrs. Peters

Mrs. Stanley Peters of 312 S. Court St. was guest of honor last night at a birthday party given in her home by members of her family and close friends.

Gifts and arrangements of flowers were received by Mrs. Peters from the guests present. Several invited guests unable to attend the celebration called Mrs. Peters to offer best wishes.

Attending were: Mr. and Mrs. John E. Greene Sr., Mr. and Mrs. John E. Greene Jr., Billy and Jimmy, all of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Greene and son, John; Mrs. Hortense Rhodes Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Russell McCafferty, Jr. and Mrs. Stanley Shiery, all of Williamsport;

Mr. and Mrs. George Wharton and daughter, Judy, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Winell, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Greishimer, all of Circleville.

48 Attend Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Meet at Robtown

Approximately 48 guests and members attended the meeting of Scioto Chapel Ladies Aid Society at Robtown.

Mrs. Lawrence Ward led devotionals, opening with group-singing of the hymn "Jesus Is Always There". She also read scripture from St. Luke and a prayer.

Birthday donations were received from Mrs. Mabel Isham, Mrs. Raymond Hott, Mrs. Robert Drummond and Mrs. Glenn Fausnaugh.

At the close of the business meeting, Mrs. Elzie Brooks president, announced her resignation, effective immediately. She expressed her inability to continue, inasmuch as she is teaching at the Exceptional Children's School in Circleville. Mrs. Brooks has been president of the Ladies Aid for 10 years.

The hostesses, Mrs. Harold Fee, Mrs. Henry Hanson, Mrs. L. J. Welsh and Mrs. Ward, planned a "surprise" program.

Mrs. Brooks was crowned "Queen For A Day". She was presented a dozen red roses and a gift from the committee. The society presented her with a check for the Exceptional Children's School. Mrs. Brooks extended an invitation to those present to visit the school. She also read cards on which members had written personal messages.

Mrs. Fee was in charge of the program. A quartette, Misses Jeanne Walker, Mary Ellen Downs, Gretchen Hott and Mrs. Judy Welsh, sang "Little Old Lady", with Miss Sally Hines at the piano.

A vocal solo "The End Of A Perfect Day" was given by Mrs. Ellis Cline. Mrs. Henry Hanson gave a reading "How You Act And Live". Patty and Jay Welsh sang a duet "How Great Thou Art" with her sister Joy, at the piano.

A piano selection was given by Sharon Ward.

Two poems, "Who Is Fannie Brooks?" and "That Church On Three - Sixteen" were given by Mrs. Howard Koch.

The program closed with a number by the quartette "Let There Be Peace On Earth."

Prizes were won by Mrs. Richard Timmons, Mrs. Brooks and Jackie Ogle.

The hostesses served refreshments at tables attractively centered with Autumn flowers.

The October committee will be Mrs. Hazel Mowery, Mrs. Ben Walker, Mrs. Escome Ward and Mrs. Dan Grant. Devotionals will be given by Mrs. Howard Koch.

Lions' Group Holds Meeting

The Lion's Auxiliary met in the home of Mrs. Bob J. Miller, Route 1, Monday evening. The business meeting was conducted by Mrs. James Peters, president.

It was announced that the program booklets for the new year would be distributed at the next meeting. A report was given by the Ways and Means chairman, Mrs. Frank Woodward Jr., and a card party will be held in the future by the auxiliary.

Mrs. Clarence Radcliffe will install officers of the New Holland Club and she and several members will go to New Holland on September 26, for the occasion.

The remainder of the evening was spent socially and counting sales tax.

The next meeting will be October 16, at the home of Mrs. Charles Curlett, Route 1, with Mrs. Richard Wilson as co-hostess.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Miller assisted by Mrs. Emmett Evans.

Wards Are Hostesses For EUB Group Meet

The Kappa Beta Class of the First EUB Church met Tuesday evening in the home of Misses Mary and Olive Ward, 369 E. Main St.

Devotions were led by the Wards and the business session was conducted by Mrs. Donald Johnson, president.

The group decided to make a $25 donation towards the purchase of new shrubbery for the church grounds.

Due to a new church election system, it was announced that the present officers of the club would hold offices until January 1, 1963.

Games were played with prizes being won by Miss Lucille Kirkwood and Mrs. Carl Baker.

Beta Kappa Chapter To Meet Today

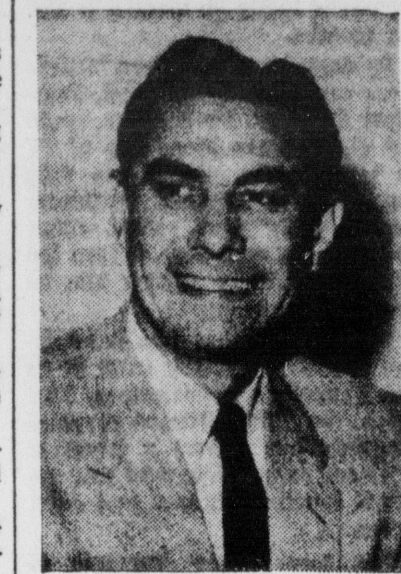

Beta Kappa Chapter of Sigma Phi Gamma Sorority will meet 8 p. m. today in the home of Mrs. Thomas Dewey, 345 Watt St.

Dear Abby...

By Abigail VanBuren

Why the Rush?

DEAR ABBY: My daughter is 25. She is not an outstanding beauty, but she is attractive and intelligent. She has turned down a few good proposals of marriage. When I ask her what she is waiting for, she says, "Don't rush me."

Is there any way I can speed up marriage for her? I am 48 and would like to see some grandchildren before I die.

WANTS GRANDCHILDREN DEAR WANTS: Many grandparents, who have pushed their children into marriage, see more of their grandchildren than they bargained for. (They are raising them). If you are impatient to see things hatch, settle down on a chicken farm. But don't pressure your daughter to fly the coop.

DEAR ABBY: I love to eat and I look it. I guess you could say that I am just plain FAT will jumping rope help me to lose weight?

FAT DEAR FAT: Yes, if you SKIP desserts!

DEAR ABBY: I found a "strange" bath towel in my laundry.

dry. I do not send my washing out, so I was completely baffled as to how it came to be in my house. One night last week my husband and I went out, and we left our child with a sitter. The sitter is a rather quiet high school girl who came well recommended. She asked if I objected if she had her boy friend over while she sat. I agreed as I trusted her.

My husband developed a bad toothache, so we came home earlier than we intended. It seemed her boy friend was just leaving. When he came home. When he saw us he turned scarlet, and left hurriedly. When I went into the bathroom it was all steamy, and I found a bath towel just like the one that was left here before. Need I draw any pictures? Please warn other women not to be as stupidly big-hearted as I. If a sitter wants to entertain her boy friend, let her entertain him in her own home.

Radioactive Waste in Sea Given Study

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Just how much radioactive waste can you dump in the ocean? Is the great Antarctic ice cap a barometer of weather? Who are the Hottentots? These are questions for science at work.

How Deep the Ocean

There are some 1 1/2 billion billion (1.4 and 17 zeros) tons of water in the world's oceans. But even this vast water world can't take all the trash man would dump into it.

Thousands of tons of slot machines, guns, tin cans—everything man wants to get rid of—are dumped into the ocean. And now radioactive wastes are dumped there too.

For most of the next decade or so, it appears that the ocean can accept in its deep waters radioactive wastes without danger, suggests oceanographer John Isaacs of the Scripps Institution. But later on there may have to be limits on the waste material to be dumped. And even now, locally, drums of radioactive wastes, attracting fish as any debris attracts fish, may pose problems. Certainly, it poses severe restrictions on the dumping of such wastes in the area where human food fish live, Isaacs writes in the magazine, International Science and Technology.

World on the Rocks

If you melted the ice of the Antarctic, the world's seas would swell some 300 feet higher and drown some of man's biggest cities.

But now some scientists are measuring the Antarctic ice cap, not for fear of this, but as a possible barometer of world climate. If the Antarctic ice is growing, this may signal a warming trend on the earth.

If this is so, then the earth faces the possibility that many years from now the Arctic ice pack will melt, and huge snow falls will deluge parts of North America, Asia and Europe, say University of Michigan geologists James Zumberge and Charles Swinbank.

These snows may then be enough to trigger another stage in the growth of glaciers again.

The Hottentot people of southern Africa have long been regarded as of Hamitic origin—the same origin as the Berbers and perhaps the ancient Egyptians. The Hamites were considered similar to the Caucasians.

But now south African researchers from the University of Cape Town say their studies indicate the Tottentots are really Negro, from the same stock as the Bantu and the Bushman.

It means, says Prof. R. Singer, that the concept of the Negroid race may have to be revised to include a wider range of skin colors.

Biological War Aimed at Food Areas

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A scientist told the Columbus Academy of Medicine Monday night that a field of wheat or a herd of cows may be more likely targets for biological warfare than a human community.

Dr. Leroy Fothergill, scientific adviser to the commanding officer at Ft. Detrick, Md., told the academy in an address that as vulnerable a scities and their human populations are, "biological warfare may find its greatest effectiveness when used for anti-crop and antianimal purposes."

He said antifood biological warfare could play a decisive role in any war that is not decided with push-button speed.

For anticrop warfare, he said, the U.S. is in a favorable defensive position and the countries with a single-crop economy most vulnerable, because any biological agent used would be specific for a certain crop.

The scientist said that if it is possible for an enemy to put an atomic bomb on a city, it should be equally possible to put a cloud of biological agent over crop production area.

NEW YORK (AP)—If you enjoyed the early "Untouchables,"—and an awful lot of people did—you'll like "Cain's Hundred," the tough, fast-paced and bloody gang-buster series that moved into NBC's schedule Tuesday night.

Although hero Nick Cain is hunting down and destroying over-lords of syndicated crime in on-temporary settings—the bosses wear Ivy League clothes and their limousines have tail fins—comparisons between the two series are inevitable. Paul Monash, who wrote the taut, savage two-part show that launched Eliot Ness two years ago, also created Nick. Although Mark Richman—Nick—and Robert Stack—Eliot—don't look alike, they play the same sort of driven character.

But where Eliot is a dedicated federal agent intent on wiping out evil, Cain is the crime syndicate mouthpiece turned avenger when a plot to kill him results in the death of his fiancée. This may be a corny and tired motivation, but Monash has loaded his first show with plenty of action, blazing guns and good actors.

The PTA, the culture kids and probably the chairman of the Federal Communications Commission (Newton Minow), who is anti-violence and recently called television "a vast wasteland" probably will be unhappy about "Cain's Hundred." But NBC has scheduled it in a late evening spot when children with responsible parents may be presumed to be tucked in for the night.

As for the rest of us, it's a fast-moving, exciting cops and robbers story, pure entertainment and escape. And it is almost certain to be very, very popular.

Two of television's most penetrating and thoughtful public affairs programs returned with illuminating shows after a summer layoff.

NBC's "White Paper" was a calmly stated but disturbing on the spot report of conditions in Portuguese Angola, torn by rebellion of its Negro natives against their white masters.

Robert Young made the film report last spring during a long journey on foot with the rebel forces when the government was banning journalists from the colony.

ABC's excellent "Close-Up" series, which has concerned itself before with American problems of Negro immigration, approached the subject from a new angle. In "Walk in My Shoes," it described what it is like to be a Negro living in many American communities today, and told it through the Negro's eyes and in words from Negro mouths.

They probably did not say much that most of us are not already aware of, but the program put over its point sharply and tellingly. Negroes spoke, some with and some without emotion, of the "Negro ghettos," of horrible housing conditions, high rents and low wages. Others talked of the many problems of coexistence in a white world.

Recommended tonight: "The Joey Bishop Show," premiere, NBC, 8:30-9 (EDT)—comedy series starring the sober-faced comedian as a trouble-prone Hollywood press agent; "Project Hope," CBS, 8:30—special report of the privately supported American hospital ship and its health missions abroad.

'Chicken Fat' May Help U.S. Kids Keep Fit

WASHINGTON (AP)—If President Kennedy's youth fitness experts have their way, the nation's school children will soon be working off "chicken fat" to a tune composed by Meredith Willson, author of "The Music Man."

Until recently, about the most strenuous exercise Willson ever took was blowing the flute. But he has suddenly become a physical fitness fiend and has composed words and music to go with a set of calisthenics.

A sample of the ballad: "Touch down ev'ry morning, Not just now and then. Give that chicken fat back to the chicken,

And don't be chicken again, No, don't be chicken again."

"Touch down" in the song signifies touching one's toes. As the song progresses the victims also must do push-ups and other exercises. The whole thing lasts 6 1/2 minutes and anybody who can finish without puffing is in good shape.

The government hasn't any money to put the recordings in the nation's schools. But it figures that if some civic group or other angel will come forward with $30,000 the job can be done. Willson isn't charging a nickel for his labors.

It all came about when Bill Whitman, publicity man working gratis for the Physical Fitness Council, approached Willson with the idea that he compose a song.

Willson then took to doing the exercises himself, and is reported to be slimmer than he was.

Oldsmobile Able To Resume Output

DETROIT (AP)—General Motors resumed limited passenger car production Tuesday for the first time since a wave of wildcat strikes halted output at the huge auto maker's 129 plants Sept. 11.

More than 9,000 assembly line workers returned to GM's Oldsmobile plant in Lansing, Mich., following final agreement Monday on local plant issues between the company and the United Auto Workers Union.

GM's GMC Truck and Coach Division resumed production at Pontiac, Mich., Monday.

New cars rolled off the Oldsmobile line as GM and UAW negotiators pressed for final agreement on local issues at 39 other plants.

HOPE FOR KATANGA CEASE-FIRE—President Moise Tshombe of Katanga Province exhorts his followers to "carry on to the death" as he waves to them from his car while returning to Elisabethville. Later, however, Tshombe was reported ready to seek a cease-fire agreement with Concor Cruise O'Brien, chief United Nations representative. Open warfare, in which at least 1,000 casualties were reported, followed U.N. efforts to bring the secessionist Katanga into the central government.

Innocence, Insanity Claimed in Plea

MOUNT VERNON, Ohio (AP)—Carroll S. Wears, charged with first-degree murder in the slaying of Samuel Cline last July 12, entered a plea of not guilty by reason of insanity when arraigned today.

He was ordered held without bail, but will be sent back to Lima State Hospital for a 30-day period of observation. He has already been ruled sane once before by hospital staff members. He is charged with shooting Cline fatally in the front yard of the home of Cline's ex-wife and Wears' estranged wife, Pauline.

OAS Sanctions Are Decried By Trujillo

CIUDAD TRUJILLO, Dominican Republic (AP)—Gen. Rafael L. Trujillo Jr., generally considered to be the power in this nation, feels that continuation of sanctions against the Dominican Republic by the Organization of American States would result in a military coup.

Trujillo, who became chief of the armed forces after his father's assassination last May 30, told newsmen Monday he could not "morally impede" a military bid for power if the reasons are sound.

"Logical reasons" for a coup, he said, would involve the nation's restoration to the hemisphere family through renewed diplomatic recognition.

He said this could be achieved by a military uprising designed to advance the date for elections, now scheduled for next May, and installing a popularly elected government that would bid for recognition by all countries of the Western Hemisphere. Therefore he argued that lifting the OAS sanctions now would forestall such a coup.

Vehicle Traffic Blamed For Pollution of Air

YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio (AP) — Vehicle traffic has been blamed for causing the most atmospheric pollution in the city during the second quarter this year.

Traffic dirt was dominant at seven of the city's testing stations in three months ending June 30. Walter I. Rauh, smoke control engineer, says. He said steel mill dirt was detected at only one and domestic dirt at four.

U.N. Reorganization Asked by Ohio Solon

WASHINGTON (AP) — Russia should not be allowed to retain membership in the United Nations while "working overtime on a global basis to destroy its very purposes," Rep. Michael E. Feighan, D-Ohio, says.

Calling for U.S. leadership in reorganizing the U.N. in the wake of the death of Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold, Feighan declared Russia must be forced to conform to the letter and spirit of the U.N. charter.

Full Airliner Passenger Log To Be Urged

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A state auditor's examiner today recommended that the Division of Aviation adopt rule and regulations requiring complete flight records including passengers carried.

State Auditor James A. Rhodes said the recommendation came as the result of an audit of the division's operations for a period extending from June 1, 1958, through May 9, 1961, in which it was found that the division was the only one of five state agencies operating state-owned planes which failed to keep a log of all flights.

The examiner also noted in his report that while the division has complied with federal regulations requiring recording of flying time of all planes, there was no record kept showing the point of origin, destination or the passengers carried.

There is no state law which governs the question of who may be carried in a state-owned plane, or dealing with the keeping of records of flights by state-owned aircraft.

Ironton Truck Firm Granted Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (AP) — The largest loan to be granted since much of Ohio's 10th Congressional District was declared a substantial unemployment area will be made to Ford Brothers Trucking Co. Inc. of Ironton, Ohio.

Rep. Walter H. Moeller, D-Ohio, said the Small Business Administration approved the $350,000 loan at 4 per cent interest under provisions of the Area Redevelopment Act.

8½ INCHES—J. A. Percifull of Paragould, Ark., doesn't know which of his 19 hens laid the biggest egg ever seen in his part of the country. The egg measures 8½ inches in diameter, weighs a full 9 ounces and is about twice as big as a coffee cup.

Ohio Said Behind On Spending Setup

EAST LIVERPOOL, Ohio (AP) —Gov. Michael V. DiSalle told some 1,500 Democrats at the annual Jefferson-Jackson Day Dinner Ohio must spend more money to keep up with other states in industry, education, mental health and development of natural resources.

The governor accused the Republican-dominated legislature of lack of vision in opposing his program.

He urged those attending the dinner Monday night to join him in "telling the story with the theme: If you have confidence in Ohio's future, prepare for it now."

Legislature Is Rapped by College Chief

KENT, Ohio (AP) — The 104th Ohio General Assembly was the target of criticism by Dr. George A. Bowman, president of Kent State University, speaking to an audience of about 500 university faculty and staff members.

The General Assembly "has been indifferent to the needs of higher and public education in Ohio," Bowman charged.

He said Kent State's appropriation for the year "does not begin to be adequate." Ohio's lawmakers "have made no provision for capital improvements," he said, adding the university must "save wherever possible, on electricity and everywhere else."

Bowman said crowded conditions and the use of substandard facilities would have to be continued at the state's second largest university because of the legislature.

John D. Millett, president of Miami University in Oxford, also had something to say Monday about that state-supported school's finances.

He told a staff-faculty meeting he thinks the university must get more income from state sources or stop increasing enrollment and concentrate on improving quality of instruction.

Millett said debt on Miami housing has jumped from $28,000 to $16,350,000 in 16 years.

He said, "From this point on, for every million dollars we borrow to house and feed 200 students, our room and board charges must be increased by another $15 per student."

Army Files Rush Order for Armor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army put in a rush order Monday for armored troop-carrying vehicles to meet its urgent requirements, presumably in Germany.

It announced plans to award a "minimum add-on contract" to the FMC Corp., San Jose, Calif., for expedited delivery of M113 personnel carriers of the type now being sent to Germany to give U.S. infantry divisions greater mobility.

The Army declined to say how many additional vehicles were being ordered.

MERCURY MONTEREY — A new custom series and extensive styling improvements distinguish the Mercury Monterey for 1962. The roof is four inches longer and there are major styling changes in the rear of the car. The custom four-door hardtop is shown here. The new auto will be on display Sept. 29 at Circleville Motors, N. Court St.

Wheat Sign-Up Off to Good Start in Ohio

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A U.S. Department of Agriculture official has been assured that the government's wheat stabilization sign-up program is off to a good start in Ohio.

Frank Hussey, deputy administrator of the department's commodity operations division, visited Columbus yesterday to attend a directors' meeting of the International Cooperative Development Fund. The fund seeks to combat inroads of Communism in agricultural areas around the world.

Hussey discussed the wheat stabilization program, intended to reduce production, with members of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee, including Chairman Dwight Wise of Fremont.

Farmer sign-ups began Friday and continue through Dec. 1. Ohio officials said it is too early to give sign-up figures, but indicated they believe response will be prompt.

Senator Asks Continued Granted Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—By limiting its nuclear tests to underground explosions, while the Soviets are testing with blasts in the atmosphere, the United States is showing far more concern for its world neighbors, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says.

Young called for continued efforts toward disarmament. He added that public resumption of nuclear tests by the Soviet government is forcing the United States to play "a deadly game of Russian roulette."

Pickaway County's Average Rate for Wheat Announced

The average county rates per acre for wheat acreage diverted to conservation uses under the 1962 wheat program are $24.90 and $33.30, according to Marvin G. Steely, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Individual farm rates are based on these county rates, depending on the farm's productivity in relation to the county average, the chairman said. He also pointed out that each wheat producer in the county with a 1962 wheat allotment, and also each producer without allotments who have grown wheat in at least one of the years 1959, 1960 or 1961, has received information on the 1962 wheat program, including two rates for his farm.

For the minimum payment, the rate is 45 per cent of the adjusted basic county support rate, multiplied first by the number of diverted acres, and then by the individual farm yield or productivity index.

The maximum payment rate is computed the same way, using 60 per cent of the adjusted basic county support rate.

PRODUCERS must use an acreage at least equal to 11.1 per cent of their 1962 farm wheat allotment for conservation in order to be eligible for price support under the 1962 program and be in compliance with their 1962 allotment.

In addition, farmers may voluntarily divert an additional one-third of their 1962 allotment. The payment earned for this additional diversion is made at the maximum farm payment rate. The diverted acreage must represent an additional amount over the normal conservation acreage and any acreage diverted to conservation uses for which payment is made under any other Federal program, such as the feed grain program.

Army Files Rush Order for Armor

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army put in a rush order Monday for armored troop-carrying vehicles to meet its urgent requirements, presumably in Germany.

It announced plans to award a "minimum add-on contract" to the FMC Corp., San Jose, Calif., for expedited delivery of M113 personnel carriers of the type now being sent to Germany to give U.S. infantry divisions greater mobility.

The Army declined to say how many additional vehicles were being ordered.

MERCURY MONTEREY — A new custom series and extensive styling improvements distinguish the Mercury Monterey for 1962. The roof is four inches longer and there are major styling changes in the rear of the car. The custom four-door hardtop is shown here. The new auto will be on display Sept. 29 at Circleville Motors, N. Court St.

Frank Hussey, deputy administrator of the department's commodity operations division, visited Columbus yesterday to attend a directors' meeting of the International Cooperative Development Fund. The fund seeks to combat inroads of Communism in agricultural areas around the world.

Hussey discussed the wheat stabilization program, intended to reduce production, with members of the Ohio Agricultural Stabilization Conservation Committee, including Chairman Dwight Wise of Fremont.

Farmer sign-ups began Friday and continue through Dec. 1, Ohio officials said it is too early to give sign-up figures, but indicated they believe response will be prompt.

Senator Asks Continued Granted Federal Loan

WASHINGTON (AP)—By limiting its nuclear tests to underground explosions, while the Soviets are testing with blasts in the atmosphere, the United States is showing far more concern for its world neighbors, Sen. Stephen M. Young, D-Ohio, says.

Young called for continued efforts toward disarmament. He added that public resumption of nuclear tests by the Soviet government is forcing the United States to play "a deadly game of Russian roulette."

Pickaway County's Average Rate for Wheat Announced

The average county rates per acre for wheat acreage diverted to conservation uses under the 1962 wheat program are $24.90 and $33.30, according to Marvin G. Steely, chairman, County Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Individual farm rates are based on these county rates, depending on the farm's productivity in relation to the county average, the chairman said. He also pointed out that each wheat producer in the county with a 1962 wheat allotment, and also each producer without allotments who have grown wheat in at least one of the years 1959, 1960 or 1961, has received information on the 1962 wheat program, including two rates for his farm.

For the minimum payment, the rate is 45 per cent of the adjusted basic county support rate, multiplied first by the number of diverted acres, and then by the individual farm yield or productivity index.

The maximum payment rate is computed the same way, using 60 per cent of the adjusted basic county support rate.

PRODUCERS must use an acreage at least equal to 11.1 per cent of their 1962 farm wheat allotment for conservation in order to be eligible for price support under the 1962 program and be in compliance with their 1962 allotment.

In addition, farmers may voluntarily divert an additional one-third of their 1962 allotment. The payment earned for this additional diversion is made at the maximum farm payment rate.

The diverted acreage must represent an additional amount over the normal conservation acreage and any acreage diverted to conservation uses for which payment is made under any other Federal program, such as the feed grain program.

Yanks Clinch Tie for Flag, Splitting Pair with Orioles

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Roger Maris was held to an in-field single Tuesday night as the New York Yankees clinched at least a tie for the American League pennant by splitting a doubleheader with Baltimore.

Maris must hit two home runs tonight to officially tie Babe Ruth's home run record.

If he doesn't, he'll have eight more regularly scheduled games in which to tie or surpass the Bambino's 60-homer record of

Rookie QB Leads Passers In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Who says a rookie quarterback can't run a National Football League team?

A week ago Francis Tarkenton was just a guy showing a lot of promise with the brand new Minnesota Vikings. Today he leads the league in individual passing figures released by NFL headquarters.

Rookie Tarkenton threw four touchdown passes and scored six points himself Sunday in Minnesota's debut, a 37-13 victory over the Chicago Bears.

And the kid from Georgia proved he was a take-chance fellow in the process. Once during the game, old pro Hugh McElhenry said in huddle:

"Tarkenton's a natural leader. He really lets you know who's running the club."

Tarkenton piled up 250 yards with his passing and wound up the NFL's first week of play with a completion percentage of 73.9, tops in the 14-team circuit. San Francisco's John Brodie wasn't far behind with a 72.7 percentage.

Halfback Tom Wilson of the Los Angeles Rams stacked up the most yardage on the ground with 117 yards. Next is fullback Joe Perry of Baltimore with 106.

1927, but will have to take the asterisk along with any record under the edict handed down by Commissioner Ford Frick.

That's the prospect facing Maris, who has 58 homers after failing to connect in nine tries against the Orioles' sharp pitchers, as he prepares to take his final official shots against right-hander Milt Pappas (12-8) if Hurricane Esther doesn't intervene.

The honor of clinching the tie for the Yankees' 26th pennant, their 11th in 13 years and the first under rookie manager Ralph Houk, went to left-hander Bud Daley who beat the Orioles 3-1 in the nightcap with a five-hitter.

Steve Barber won the opener for the Birds 1-0 with a four-hit job for his eighth shutout, tops in the majors. Maris walked in the first, then failed to get a hit in three other at-bats.

In the second game, Maris fouled out in the first, got an in-field single in the third, grounded out in the fourth, hit a long foul in the seventh before flying out to center and struck out in the ninth for a 3-for-36 performance at Baltimore this season.

Bill Skowron took up the homer slack for the Yankees, cracking his 27th, with one on in the fourth, for a 3-1 New York lead that stood up and reduced their magic number to one over the second-place Detroit Tigers.

19 Pacers Set For 'Jug' Race

2 Divisions Booked For Classic Thursday

DELAWARE, Ohio (AP)—Nineteen of the nation's top 3-year-old pacers will swing in behind the starting gate Thursday for the 16th Little Brown Jug over Delaware Fairground's half-mile track.

Lang Hanover, Ohio's chief hope in the $70,000 classic, drew pole position. The colt, owned by Samuel Huttenbauer of Cincinnati, holds the season's best time for sophomore pacers—1:57.8.

Another Ohio entry, Speedy Time, owned by the Byron Kuth Stables of Cleveland, drew the rail in the second division.

The first five horses in each division will come back for a raceoff. In the event a third horse wins that dash, the three heat winners will race alone for the big prize.

Cleveland and Kansas City split, the A's winning the opener 6-0 and the Indians taking the nightcap 6-2. Chicago whipped Boston 5-1 and Minnesota defeated Washington 3-1.

Skowron's homer, with Elston Howard on base against Baltimore starter Skinny Brown (10-6), gave Daley his 12th win against 17 defeats. The lone Baltimore run came on Ron Hansen's homer leading off the third.

In the opener, Barber (17-11) had the Yankees completely in control while Baltimore's first-inning run stood up and made Whitey Ford (24-4) the loser. The Orioles scored when Brooks Robinson singled, reached second as the ball got by Hec Lopez and scored on Jerry Adair's double.

The Tigers scored four in the first inning on singles by Billy Bruton and Norm Cash, doubles by Al Kaline and Rocky Colavito plus two wild pitches by Ken McBride (12-14) and an error. That was enough for Don Mossi (15-7), although he was tagged for homers by Eddie Yost and Steve Bilkko in a four-hit pitching performance.

They're playing taps for the Dodgers in Los Angeles while Cincinnati's rambunctious Reds ride their pennant-bound express to their first National League flag in 21 years.

The Reds, a patchwork outfit that includes a host of youngsters and a batch of castoffs, ballooned their lead to five games over the Dodgers Tuesday night by wallowing the Pittsburgh Pirates 10-1 for their seventh victory in the last eight games.

The triumph, coupled with Los Angeles' second straight loss to the seventh-place Chicago Cubs, 7-3, reduced the Reds' magic number to five. Any combination of five Cincinnati victories or Dodger defeats will give the Reds their first pennant since 1940.

It was a typical story for the Reds as trade acquisition Gene Freese smacked two homers, including a key three-run shot in a seven-run fourth-inning rally, and 24-year-old Jim O'Toole won his sixth in a row bringing his pitching record to 17-9.

San Francisco and Milwaukee players hammered four homers each before Ed Bailey's ninth-inning single drove in the winning run for the Giants' 11-10 victory. St. Louis blanked Philadelphia 3-0 as Curt Simmons five-hit his former teammates.

Roger Maris was held to an in-field single Tuesday night as the New York Yankees clinched at least a tie for the American League pennant by splitting a doubleheader with Baltimore.

Rookie QB Leads Passers In Pro Loop

NEW YORK (AP) — Who says a rookie quarterback can't run a National Football League team? A week ago Francis Tarkenton was just a guy showing a lot of promise with the brand new Minnesota Vikings. Today he leads the league in individual passing figures released by NFL headquarters.

Rookie Tarkenton threw four touchdown passes and scored six points himself Sunday in Minnesota's debut, a 37-13 victory over the Chicago Bears.

And the kid from Georgia proved he was a take-charge fellow in the process. Once during the game, old pro Hugh McElhenny said in huddle:

"I'm tired."

Tarkenton eyed old Hugh and then called the veteran's signal. After the game, McElhenny said:

"Tarkenton's a natural leader. He really lets you know who's running the club."

Tarkenton piled up 250 yards with his passing and wound up the NFL's first week of play with a completion percentage of 73.9, tops in the 14-team circuit. San Francisco's John Brodie wasn't far behind with a 72.7 percentage.

Halfback Tom Wilson of the Los Angeles Rams stacked up the most yardage on the ground with 118 yards. Next is fullback Joe Perry of Baltimore with 106.

AP Guesspert Picks Winners On Grid Card

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Trying to find this weekend's flaming college football winners amidst the dying embers of the baseball season (last week's opening record; 15 winners in 18 tries for an .833 average):

Alabama over Georgia: Pat Trammel's passing to bring Alabama the decision in a contest marked by the rugged defense of both squads.

Penn State over Navy: There's no Joe Bellino in the Middles' backfield this season.

Syracuse over Oregon State: The Big Orange turns Ernie Davis loose on the West Coast.

Kansas over Texas Christian: Kansas over Texas Christian: It is a night affair at Fort Worth but the darkness won't hide the all-around ability of quarterback John Hadl, spearhead of the Jayhawk attack.

Purdue over Washington: The coast team's Rose Bowl lineup almost wiped out by graduation but don't weep too much. The Huskies still have Charley Mitchell, Ron DiGravio is the new Boiler-maker passer and will decide.

Elsewhere: Miami over Kentucky, Georgia Tech over Southern California, Iowa State over Oklahoma State, Virginia over William & Mary, Texas over California.

East: Army over Richmond, Boston College over Cincinnati, Boston University over Buffalo, Villanova over Virginia Military.

Midwest: Indiana over Kansas State, Missouri over Washington State, Nebraska over North Dakota, Memphis State over Tulsa, Wisconsin over Utah.

South: The Citadel over George Washington, Florida over Clemson, Furman over Davidson, Mississippi over Arkansas, Mississippi State over Texas Tech, Duke over South Carolina, Vanderbilt over West Virginia.

Southwest: Baylor over Wake Forest, North Texas over Hardin Simmons, Rice over Louisiana State, Houston over Texas A&M, West Texas over Brigham Young.

West: UCLA over Air Force, Arizona State over Wichita, Arizona over Colorado State University, New Mexico State over New Mexico, Tulane over Stanford, Utah State over Montana, North Carolina State over Wyoming.

According to Chairman Mort Olan, the competitors on the Losantville Country Club's 18-hole, par 72 course Saturday will include:

Sam Snead, winner of many tournaments, and his amateur partner, Ed Tutwiler of Charlestown, W.Va.

Jack Nicklaus, 21-year-old Ohio State University student who last week won his second U.S. amateur championship.

Dick Mayer, who won the National Open at Toledo in 1957 and his partner, Milt Schloss of Losantville.

Stan Leonard of Vancouver B.C. made golfing history this summer when he won the Canadian PGA championship for the eighth time. He turned in a record 54-hole score of 203.

In three of the first four Hudson Futurity trots, Bob Baldwin finished second at Yonkers, N. Y.

Is Zero Hour Near for Maris?

BALTIMORE (AP)—Tonight is zero hour for Roger Maris. Or is it?

Th crew-cut slugging star of the New York Yankees has just one game—four or five at bats—in which to slam the three home runs he still needs to eclipse Babe Ruth's home run record of 60 in a season.

The 27-year-old right fielder's bat was almost completely muffled Tuesday night as the Yankees assured themselves of at least a tie for the American League pennant with a doubleheader split against Baltimore.

New York won the second game 3-1 after Steve Barber of the Orioles had outpitched Whitey Ford 1-0 in the opener.

Maris, with 58 homers in the bank, came to bat nine times. The closest he came to hitting a home run was a long drive into the right field bleachers — foul by some 20 feet—in the seventh inning of the nightcap. His only safety was an infield single in his sixth time at bat. In his other tries, he walked, fouled out twice, grounded out twice, flied out twice and struck out.

"Well, I've got to be a Houdini now to do it in 154 games," Maris said.

"I had a bad night," he admitted, "and when I'm bad, I'm really lousy. I've got nobody to blame but myself. I was over-anxious. I had some good pitches to hit at but I also swung at some bad ones. Those pitchers (Steve Barber, Skinny Brown and Hoyt Wilhelm) had me swinging at their pitch. I should have waited them out a little more and forced them to come in with my pitch, but I was too anxious."

Commissioner Ford Frick has decreed that if Ruth's hallowed homer mark is equalled or broken, it must be done in 154 decisions. That was the number of

Gophers, Minus 18 Seniors, Appear Unlikely Contenders

EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in a series on the major football teams in the Midwest.

By WALTER L. JOHNS
Central Press Sports Editor
MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Murray Warmath, the southern gentleman who coaches the northernmost team in the Big Ten — Minnesota — was lifted from the bum's rush status to a hero's role last year as his Gophers won a share in the title with Iowa and then went on to the Rose Bowl.

And this, mind you, came after the 1959 season when the Golden Gophers finished last in the conference.

It's a new year and new hopes and Minnesota once again figures well up there even though 18 seniors, including the marvelous Tom Brown and such other stalwarts as Frank Brixius, Roger Hagberg, Dick Larson and Greg Larson, are gone.

Warmath won't put his team in the championship flight and in a rundown accents the 1961 season with this summary: "We have much less man power and face a tougher schedule."

MURRAY EXPLAINS the schedule angle this way: "Missouri replaces Nebraska for our opener. And Missouri is a real good football team. Then we have Oregon (first meeting) for our second game. Last year we had Indiana. Oregon will be one of the best on the coast."

"Then, last year, after the Michigan game we met Kansas State, which gave us some relief, but this year we have to play Michigan State after Michigan."

In another size-up of his squad, Murray, beginning his eighth year here and given a year's extension on his contract, says:

"This team will not be over-confident despite us winning the title last year. We will be humble but the rest of the league may want to take us knowing that we had a good year in 1960."

"Last year we knew we had a good football squad and had a break in the schedule and were blessed by experience and depth. We've lost some irreplaceable men like Brown, who was the defensive part of our attack... the meat grinder as we called him."

"WE HAVE no men to compare with Brixius and Dick Miller at tackle. We lost two men behind Sandy Stephens at quarter and we lost all three fullbacks including Rogers who was our extra point man and a good one."

This is another hefty Gopher team although some small backs are being picked up. Warmath describes his fullbacks as "more of the fullback type rather than the halfback type."

The lightest boy in his starting backfield, which includes Stephens at quarter, Dave Mulholland at left half, Bill Munsey at right half and Judge Dickson, a former halfback a full is Munsey and he weighs in at 195.

Munsey, ranked by Warmath as "one of the better players in the conference," also is a superb defensive player and a fine blocker in addition to being a strong runner.

Stephens, also a fine all-around performer, is a year older and no as bulky as last year. Dickson is a tough competitor.

Duane Blaska, untired, is the No. 2 quarter with a former halfback, Jerry Pelletier, No. 3. Pelletier, who weighs only 152 pounds, is the smallest back Minnesota has had in eight years.

BEHIND MUNSEY is Tom King and behind Mulholland is Paul Benson. One of the bright prospects is the No. 2 fullback, Jerry Jones, third-string last year and one who has improved tremendously. Another is Terry Hedstrom, the best back on the freshman team last year. He's a fullback.

Fastest of the backs is Earl Roles but he is green and now rated No. 4 at left half.

Warmath feels he has "credit-able" ends. They are Bob Deegan and Bob Prawdzik at left end and Tom Hall and Jack Campbell at right end. Deegan and Hall were regulars last year.

At tackle are Jim Wheeler, 220 and a fine discovery, Bobby Bell, also 220. Behind them are Steve Kereakos and Carl Eller, 238.

Warmath speaks of Bell along with his backfield star, Munsey, in this way: "When those two boys first put cleats on and came on the field we knew that they would start the season."

Bob Frisbee, 230, and a former tackle, is the center and he's learning fast. Behind him is Dick Enga, a former fullback who is the best competitor on the squad. At guards are John Mulvena, 220, and Robin Teller, also 220.

Minnesota follows the Missouri and Oregon starters with Northwestern, Illinois, Michigan, Michigan State, Iowa, Purdue and Wisconsin.

Outfielder Gordon Windhorn was with 12 teams in 11 years before the Los Angeles Dodgers purchased his contract from Omaha last June.

Ohio Hog Population Increases in Year

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—There were 3,070,000 hogs and pigs on Ohio farms as of Sept. 1, an increase of one per cent over last September's number, the Ohio Crop Reporting Service says.

It added that the number of sows to farrow on Ohio farms for 1961 fall pig crop is estimated at 313,000 head, a decrease of 3 per cent from 1960 fall farrowings.

Neil Wheelwright and Harold Haines, former Springfield College athletes, are on Coach Howdy Myers' football staff at Hofstra College, Hempstead, N. Y.

13 Ohio Army Units Called

Active Duty Slated To Start Oct. 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of 10 Army Reserve and 3 Army National Guard units in Ohio began putting their civilian affairs in order today.

Word came from the Department of Defense Tuesday that they are among members of 249 units and two National Guard divisions around the nation who will go on active duty Oct. 15.

Ohio's huge 37th Army National Guard Infantry Division is not included.

The Ohio Army Reserve units activated are:

366th Medical Detachment (Team KB—orthopedic, correction of deformities), Cleveland.

389th Medical Detachment (Team KF—thoracic, treatment of the area of the body between abdomen and neck), Cleveland.

480th Ordnance Company, Cincinnati.

325th Finance Section Disbursing, Toledo.

342nd Military Intelligence Detachment, Cleveland.

363rd Medical Detachment, Cincinnati.

360th Medical Detachment, Cleveland.

418th Ordnance Battalion, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Marion.

377th Signal Company, Base Depot Springfield.

960th Engineer Battalion Depot, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Columbus.

The Ohio Army National Guard units are:

112th Ordnance Company, Newark.

3641 Ordnance Company, Port Clinton.

131st Medical Company, Xenia.

Officers of the 20th Army Corps at Ft. Hayes in Columbus said that 23 Army Reserve units in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky are being brought to full strength. The practice being followed is to recruit prior service people with appropriate training where possible, and to draw from reservists pools if vacancies cannot be filled by recruiting.

Ashville Hires New Director

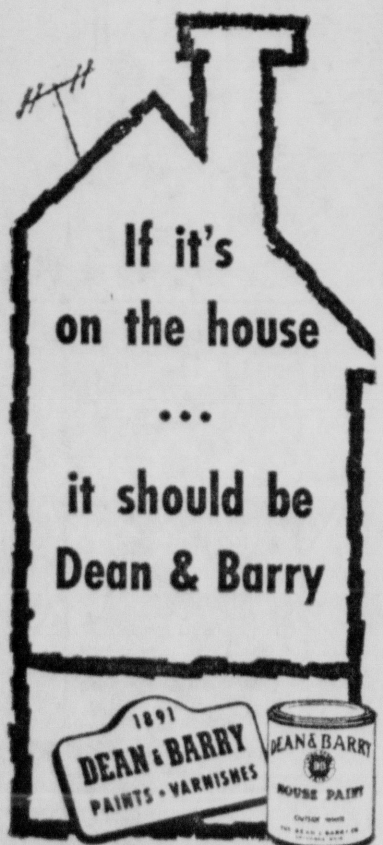

Ray L. Sellenbinder, a noted Columbus musician and music instructor, has been employed as instrumental music director of Ashville-Harrison schools beginning Oct. 1.

Sellenbinder will replace William Pangburn of Ashville, who has been called into active duty with the Air Force as of Oct. 1. The change was announced by E. R. Gregg, executive head of the Teays Valley Local School District.

The new teacher has 11 years experience in public school music work. For the last 10 years he has taught in Hamilton Local schools near Columbus and served on the faculty of Otterbein College on a part-time basis.

He holds bachelor of science, bachelor of music and master of arts in music administration degrees from Ohio State University. SEELENBINDER is the author of "The Mystery of Rhythm" a textbook now in use in California schools.

He is also a performing member of the Columbus Concert Band, the Hartman Theater Orchestra and the Columbus Symphony Orchestra. Sellenbinder is 34, married and has two children.

Carol Torchick Named Head Of Farm Bureau Youth Group

Carol Torchick was elected president of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Youth Council during a recent meeting at the Home Economics building at the fairgrounds.

Other officers elected during the meeting were: Brad Huffines, vice president; Barbara Dudson, secretary; Connie Dunkle, treasurer; Nancy Wilson, regional cabinet member; Dwight Beougher, alternate regional cabinet member; Cheryl Martin, discussion leader; Larry Vance, recreation leader; Susan Laveck, assistant recreation leader; and Lois Wilson, news reporter.

Square dancing preceded the meeting led by Darwin Bryan, of Ohio University.

The meeting was conducted by the temporary chairman, Nancy Wilson.

It was decided that the council would sponsor a float for Pumpkin Show parades and a commitment.

Gas Company Head Warns Public of Impersonators

Local Ohio Fuel Gas Co. officials reported today the public is once again subject to men impersonating gas company workers to gain access to private homes.

Douglas Cotterman, manager of the local gas company office, said several reports have been received in the South Bloomfield area of men telling housewives they were from the gas company and were supposed to inspect the furnace.

Cotterman cautioned the public to be aware of such persons. He said identification should be requested.

The local gas company official said men engaged in gas company work are usually in uniform and all carry identification cards.

USE THE CLASSIFIEDS

tee was appointed for the project.

Dues for the coming year were collected and several bills were paid that were made during the Pickaway County Fair.

The next meeting will be held October 17, in the fairgrounds coliseum.

Following adjournment of the meeting, additional square dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by all present.

Dixie Areas See Hike in Radioactivity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced today that large increases in atmospheric radioactivity were recorded Monday in Montgomery, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga. New Orleans, La.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Pascagoula, Miss.; and Columbia, S.C.

The levels ranged from 244.1 micromicrocuries of gross Beta activity per cubic meter of air in New Orleans to 500 at Montgomery.

A spokesman said the readings were the highest ever recorded at the listed cities.

Monday, Ribicoff attributed increased radioactivity in 12 Eastern and Northern states and the District of Columbia directly to the current series of Russian atmospheric nuclear tests.

Referring to the high levels recorded Monday, Ribicoff said that "while radioactivity levels of these magnitudes are undesirable, they do not pose a public health threat to the populations involved unless sustained over a long period of time."

As late as the 1920s, the capital of Mongolia, Urga (now Ulan Bator), featured houses surrounded by plisades of unpeeled logs.

Hartman To Speak Before PTA Group

City Superintendent of Schools George A. Hartman will be the featured speaker for a regular meeting of the South Court-Walnut School PTA at 7 p. m. Thursday in the school building.

Hartman will present a colored slide series depicting major decisions facing school administrators and parents in the United States during the next several years.

The slide photographs were produced through the National Education Association and the national association of elementary school principals. Hartman said all phases of pressing educational needs, such as construction of classrooms and recruitment of additional instructors, in covered by the series.

He will also present a brief outline of reasons for the city board of education's decision to seek added operating funds via a levy to be placed on the November ballot here.

PTA officials announced refreshments would be served after the business session and program is completed.

Alaska Program On Rotary Agenda

O. B. Spencer, Columbus, will be guest speaker when the Circleville Rotary Club meets here Thursday for a regular noon luncheon meeting.

Spencer will present a program on Alaska, including the showing of pictures. He will come here through the efforts of Leroy Slusser.

SOS Installs New Members

New members of the Circleville High School Senior Service-Over-Self Club (SOS) were installed last night during a candlelight ceremony in the social rooms at the High school.

New members of the group are Judy Adkins, Donna Chaney, Karen Evans, Sharon Evans, Sherry Fisher, Elaine Goldschmidt, Karen Greenlee, Patti Hines, Darlene Hopkins, Cheryl Mumaw, Lynn Reichelderfer, Judy Reithmiller, Beth Rickey, Carolyn Walters, Emily Weldon and Ginger Wilson. The Junior SOS executive board and club advisers, Miss Patricia Brock and Mrs. William Riecke, attended the installation as special guests.

The new members, led by Kathy Schmidt, vice president, completed a friendship circle. Susan Cherrington, president, then lighted the candles of each new member while a white carnation was presented to each new member.

Mrs. Charles Boggs, club advisor, explained the purpose of the club for the benefit of new members and refreshments were served following a welcoming address.

City Patrolman Mills Admitted to Hospital

City Patrolman Jack Mills, 464 E. Franklin St., has been admitted to University Hospital, Columbus, as a medical patient.

Mrs. Mills said today her husband is permitted no visitors. He is in room 1195.

CHS Band Makes Annual Trip to Jackson Festival

The Circleville High School Band was to participate in activities today at the annual Apple Festival in Jackson.

Truman Eberly, director, said the band was scheduled for a concert at about 3:30 p. m. following the afternoon parade. The CHS unit was also to take part in an evening parade.

Eberly noted that today's visit to Jackson is the first public appearance for the band, other than football games, in their new uniforms purchased by the Band Mother's organization.

Robert Colville and Ned Dresbach were to accompany the band with the huge pumpkin display to promote the 1961 Circleville Pumpkin Show.

Toledo Jurist To Head Ohio Appellate Judges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Judge Lehr Fess of the 6th District Appellate Court is the chief justice of Ohio Courts of Appeals for 1962. The Toledo jurist was elected at the group's annual meeting here Tuesday. He succeeds Judge Charles B. McLintock of Canton.

Judge Lynn B. Griffith of Warren, 7th District Appellate Court, was elected secretary and succeeds Fess to that post.

13 Ohio Army Units Called

Active Duty Slated To Start Oct. 15

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Members of 10 Army Reserve and 3 Army National Guard units in Ohio began putting their civilian affairs in order today.

Word came from the Department of Defense Tuesday that they are among members of 249 units and two National Guard divisions around the nation who will go on active duty Oct. 15.

Ohio's huge 37th Army National Guard Infantry Division is not included.

The Ohio Army Reserve units activated are:

366th Medical Detachment (Team KB—orthopedic, correction of deformities), Cleveland.

389th Medical Detachment (Team KF—thoracic, treatment of the area of the body between abdomen and neck), Cleveland.

480th Ordnance Company, Cincinnati.

325th Finance Section Disbursing, Toledo.

342nd Military Intelligence Detachment, Cleveland.

363rd Medical Detachment, Cincinnati.

360th Medical Detachment, Cleveland.

418th Ordnance Battalion, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Marion.

377th Signal Company, Base Depot Springfield.

960th Engineer Battalion Depot, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, Columbus.

The Ohio Army National Guard units are:

112th Ordnance Company, Newark.

364th Ordnance Company, Port Clinton.

131st Medical Company, Xenia.

Officers of the 20th Army Corps at Ft. Hayes in Columbus said that 23 Army Reserve units in Ohio, West Virginia and Kentucky are being brought to full strength. The practice being followed is to recruit prior service people with appropriate training where possible, and to draw from reservists pools if vacancies cannot be filled by recruiting.

Ashville Hires New Director

Ray L. Sellenbinder, a noted Columbus musician and music instructor, has been employed as instrumental music director of Ashville-Harrison schools beginning Oct. 1.

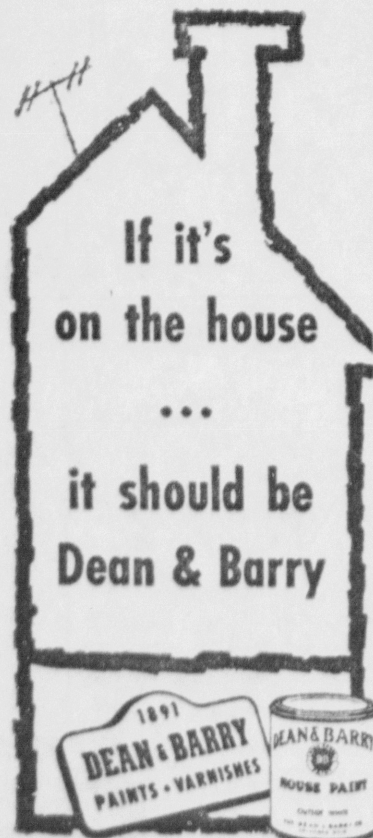

Sellenbinder will replace William Pangburn of Ashville, who has been called into active duty with the Air Force as of Oct. 1. The change was announced by E. R. Gregg, executive head of the Teays Valley Local School District.

The new teacher has 11 years experience in public school music work. For the last 10 years he has taught in Hamilton Local schools near Columbus and served on the faculty of Otterbein College on a part-time basis.

He holds bachelor of science, bachelor of music and master of arts in music administration degrees from Ohio State University.

SELENBINDER is the author of "The Mystery of Rhythm" a textbook now in use in California schools.

He is also a performing member of the Columbus Concert Band, the Hartman Theater Orchestra and the Columbus Symphony Orchestra. Sellenbinder is 34, married and has two children.

Carol Torchick was elected president of the Pickaway County Farm Bureau Youth Council during a recent meeting at the Home Economics building at the fairgrounds.

Other officers elected during the meeting were: Brad Huffines, vice president; Barbara Duleson, secretary; Connie Dunkle, treasurer; Nancy Wilson, regional cabinet member; Dwight Beougher, alternate regional cabinet member; Cheryl Martin, discussion leader; Larry Vance, recreation leader; Susan Laveck, assistant recreation leader; and Lois Wilson, news reporter.

Square dancing preceded the meeting led by Darwin Bryan, of Ohio University.

The meeting was conducted by the temporary chairman, Nancy Wilson.

It was decided that the council would sponsor a float for Pumpkin Show parades and a commitment.

Gas Company Head Warns Public of Impersonators

Local Ohio Fuel Gas Co. officials reported today the public is once again subject to men impersonating gas company workers to gain access to private homes.

Douglas Cotterman, manager of the local gas company office, said several reports have been received in the South Bloomfield area of men telling housewives they were from the gas company and were supposed to inspect the furnace.

Cotterman cautioned the public to be aware of such persons. He said identification should be requested.

The local gas company official said men engaged in gas company work are usually in uniform and all carry identification cards.

tee was appointed for the project.

Dues for the coming year were collected and several bills were paid that were made during the Pickaway County Fair.

The next meeting will be held October 17, in the fairgrounds coliseum.

Following adjournment of the meeting, additional square dancing and refreshments were enjoyed by all present.

Dixie Areas See Hike in Radioactivity

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Welfare Abraham A. Ribicoff announced today that large increases in atmospheric radioactivity were recorded Monday in Montgomery, Ala.; Atlanta, Ga.; New Orleans, La.; Jacksonville, Fla.; Pascagoula, Miss.; and Columbia, S.C.

The levels ranged from 244.1 micromicrocuries of gross Beta activity per cubic meter of air in New Orleans to 500 at Montgomery.

A spokesman said the readings were the highest ever recorded at the listed cities.

Monday, Ribicoff attributed increased radioactivity in 12 Eastern and Northern states and the District of Columbia directly to the current series of Russian atmospheric nuclear tests.

Referring to the high levels recorded Monday, Ribicoff said that "while radioactivity levels of these magnitudes are undesirable, they do not pose a public health threat to the populations involved unless sustained over a long period of time."

As late as the 1920s, the capital of Mongolia, Urga (now Ulaanbaatar), featured houses surrounded by plisades of unpeeled logs.

Hartman To Speak Before PTA Group

City Superintendent of Schools George A. Hartman will be the featured speaker for a regular meeting of the South Court-Walnut School PTA at 7 p. m. Thursday in the school building.

Hartman will present a colored slide series depicting major decisions facing school administrators and parents in the United States during the next several years.

The slide photographs were produced through the National Education Association and the national association of elementary school principals. Hartman said all phases of pressing educational needs, such as construction of classrooms and recruitment of additional instructors, in covered by the series.

He will also present a brief outline of reasons for the city board of education's decision to seek added operating funds via a levy to be placed on the November ballot here.

PTA officials announced refreshments would be served after the business session and program is completed.

Alaska Program On Rotary Agenda

O. B. Spencer, Columbus, will be guest speaker when the Circleville Rotary Club meets here Thursday for a regular noon luncheon meeting.

Spencer will present a program on Alaska, including the showing of pictures. He will come here through the efforts of Leroy Slusser.
